REVOLUTION COMING IN GERMANY AND THE SOONER IT COMES THE BETTER, SAYS SHIP OFFICER

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 2.—The opinion that a revolution is coming in Germany, and the sooner it comes the better, was expressed by Chief Steward Lloyd C. Hoffman of the North German Lloyd steamship Sevillita, before her departure early today for New York, with 235 cabin passengers, after discharging 470 immigrants here. He found it difficult to find words to express his feelings of the situation in the fatherland, and was exceedingly pessimistic insofar as the present republican form of government is concerned. "It is no use," he said, "republic cannot succeed in Germany."

Just what will be the outcome of the revolution, if one develops—and it seems to be on the way, according to the way of thinking—neither Mr. Hoffman nor other officers of the Sevillita who were interviewed, could forecast. They were certain of one thing, however, and that is that events are moving to a crisis.

The chief steward said he hoped the crisis would be reached before the long winter sets in. "It will serve to clear the atmosphere, anyway," he said. "It is difficult to get workers to get much more than money enough to pay for their meals. The situation is aggravated by the industrial slump in some sections, causing much idleness."

as Master of Greenhalge Evening Grammar School
From Which He Was Ousted by School Committee—Action Names Mayor Donovan and Other Members of the School Committee

William W. Dennett, master of the Morey grammar school, has brought a petition for a writ of mandamus in the superior court to compel the school committee to reinstate him as master of the Greenhalge evening grammar school, a position he occupied from the fall of 1916 until the fall of 1922, when the board elected in his stead, John H. Gillick.

The action names Mayor John J. Donovan, Thomas E. Delaney, James J. Bruin, Eugene Mullin, Mrs. Alice D. Pearson, Dr. Emma Y. Slaughter and James J. Riley, constituting the school committee, as defendants, service having been made upon each last night and today by Sheriff Martin Conway.

The writ is returnable on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at which time the defendants are notified to appear and show cause why the mandamus should not issue.

In his petition Mr. Dennett is represented by Atty. John M. O'Donoghue.

In his petition Mr. Dennett states that he served as master of the Greenhalge evening grammar school from 1916 until the fall of 1922 and contents that inasmuch as he had served three or more consecutive years he had obtained permanent tenure of office under Sec. 41, Chapter 71, General Laws.

On Sept. 29, 1922, at a meeting of the school committee Supt. Hugh J. Molloy recommended him to the committee for election to the position he had held during the six previous years, but the committee chose to elect John H. Gillick, again in September of this year Mr. Gillick was elected.

Exceptions Noted

With the exception of one or two extensions, possibly in Merrimack st. and in Paige street area, Lowell has gone about as far in the matter of ornamental White Way lighting as her pocketbook will permit.

This is the opinion of Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the board of public service, and City Engineer Stephen Kearney, both of whom say that while the White Way is a system of illumination that cannot be surpassed, it is altogether too costly for general use.

It is believed, therefore, that with the installation of this system in Paige, John and French streets and its extension in Merrimack street from Cabot way.

COMMISSIONER WALSH HOLDS TEN
LIQUOR CASE DEFENDANTS FOR FEDERAL COURT TRIALS

Thomas S. Murphy of Lawrence was adjudged probably guilty of illegal liquor sale by U. S. Commissioner Richard B. Walsh here this morning and recognized under $500 bail for his appearance before the federal court in Boston on Dec. 11.

Mr. Murphy's arraignment was the only contested case of the ten brought in by Federal Agents Sullivan and Hall as a result of their activities in Lawrence, Worcester and Haverhill on Wednesday. Murphy's case, in Park street, Lawrence, was the first place visited by the officers on that day.

Matthew Grege of Lawrence, counsel for the defense, contended no sale had been proven, as both agents admitted. Murphy threw the money offered him back at Hall after serving him a drink. Asst. United States District

SEPARATISTS RECAPTURE GOVERN-MENT BUILDINGS AT AIX-LA-
CHAPELLE AFTER FIGHTING

COLOGNE, Germany, Nov. 2 (By the Associated Press).—The town hall at Aix-la-Chapelle and the government building where the Rhineland republic was proclaimed 12 days ago, are again in the hands of separatist forces, according to word received here shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. Men under Leo Deckers, separatist leader, reinforced by separatists from Coblenz and Duren, seized the buildings this morning, the advice state.

According to word telephoned here, the seizure of the town hall was accompanied by street fighting in which a number of separatists were wounded.

An unverified report said the separatists were plundering the shops in Aix-la-Chapelle, which refused to open, the raiders helping themselves.

YES, THERE ARE NO MORE TAX BOOKS

The 5000 tax books placed on the counters of the assessing department at city hall yesterday morning for free and general distribution have disappeared like dew before a hot July sun.

Somewhere in the vicinity of 3:30 o'clock this afternoon the clerks of the department released a concerted sigh of relief and then swelled the chorus of "That's All There Was. There isn't Any More."

Word to the effect that the books were ready for distribution reached the city like bad news and the drive upon the department has been intensive and sustained. It was tough while it lasted, but it was all for the good of the service and the public sincerely appreciated the kindness and the alacrity of the department clerks in caring for all requests.

Persons desiring to send gifts of appreciation may be guided by the announcement that the girls in the office prefer violets.

Yes, we have no more books.

John Steel at The Auditorium

JOHN STEEL

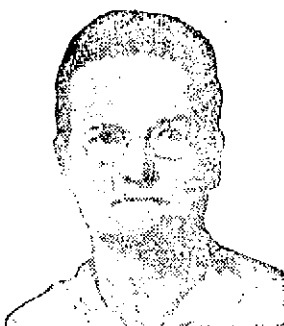

John Steel, the American tenor who is to sing at the Auditorium on next Sunday afternoon and evening, has had a most interesting career. Although still in his twenties, he has a secure place in the musical life of America. Mr. Steel is of Irish and Scotch parentage and was born in Montclair, N. J. When only a child he showed remarkable talent for music and sang in the boys' choir of various New York and Brooklyn churches. At the age of 15 he left school and went to work in an office for a week. He was anxious to be a success as a business man but as the days went on he received offers to sing in many churches and nightclubs, and soon began to make more money by singing than by his hard work all day in an office. This caused him to look more seriously toward a future as a singer. Soon he gave up all idea of business and began to study for concert. By singing in churches and concerts he made enough money to pay for his lessons in music and languages. When the United States declared war against Germany, he ceased studying and went overseas for a year to sing for the American Expeditionary Forces. On returning to America he received his first offer to sing in a musical production, "The Maid of the Mountains," which played at the Casino Theatre, New York. After the first performance John Steel was "made." He was an overnight success. The next day he was in New York immediately sought his services, one of whom was Florence Ziegfeld, whose offer was so tempting that Steel accepted, with him to appear with the Ziegfelds in 1919 and 1920. Before finishing his contract with Ziegfeld he was offered a large increase in salary to continue with the Ziegfelds. He refused, as he desired to make a tour through the states in concert work. The Victor Phonograph Company also made an offering to him to make records, and today his records are among the best sellers in the large catalogue. He is at present under contract with Sam Harris of New York, and is appearing nightly at the Music Box Theatre in the latest edition of the Music Box Revue.

Permission was granted him to accept next Sunday's engagements at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium. He has selected a number of the old and new songs for this occasion. To those who have never heard this artist, excepting in his record work, a treat is in store. Another excellent feature on this bill is Lieut. John M. Lee's All-Star U. S. Concert Band. This organization consists of 30 picked musicians. Their repertoire includes everything from classic to jazz. There is no doubt the most critical will be well pleased. The three famous sisters are harpists of more than ordinary ability, who play exceptionally well together. They are expected to add greatly to the strength of a fine bill. The prices, with all seats reserved at a price scale of from 25 cents to $1, are proving popular. Tickets are now on sale at 11 Prince's Funguslow Shop, 108 Merrimack street. The box office at the Auditorium will open at noon on Sunday.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

An enjoyable Halloween party was given last evening by Miss Evelyn Murray of 10 Alder street. The house was decorated in black and orange with fantastic ornaments hung from the ceiling. The party was the ever-popular costume kind. Players were distributed and games played. Piano solos were given by Misses Lucien Charrette, Evelyn Murray, Edith Gady and Master Edwin Perkins. The party broke up at a reasonable hour, the gathering joining in the chorus of "The Star Spangled Banner."

DO YOU SUFFER?

BACKACHE OR PAIN OVER KIDNEYS?

Wonderful Relief Is Here Told.

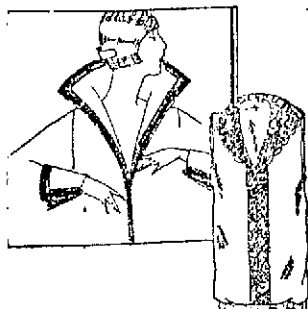

Utica, N. Y.—"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets for kidneys and backache. I have never known a medicine that would give such quick relief. For some time past I had been suffering with kidney disorder, my back would be lame through the region of the kidneys and I also suffered with rheumatism and stiffness of the joints. Just recently I learned of Anuric and began its use. I have only taken it a very short time but have derived wonderful relief. My kidneys have become active and seemingly in a normal state and I do not suffer with backaches and stiffness of the joints. To those who suffer as I did I would suggest Dr. Pierce's Anuric." Mrs. H. A. Taylor, 108 Knox Street.

This little uric acid remedy of Dr. Pierce's for backache and kidneys called "Anuric" is new, but it can be had at your neighborhood drug store, or send 10c. for trial package to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo.

ST. JOSEPH'S SCHOOL
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

At a general meeting of the entire members of the St. Joseph's School Alumni association, which was held in the school hall last evening, final plans were made for the banquet to be given in the main hall of the college on Sunday next at 6 o'clock. The various committees submitted interesting reports which, if taken as a forerunner of the success of the coming event, speak favorably for the largest reunion ever held by the association.

President Arthur Giroux called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. After the regular routine business was disposed of, reports were submitted by the various committees. Arthur Lequin, chairman of the reception committee, reported that all plans of seating and other necessary details had been made for the best possible seating arrangements in the hall. John B. Richards reported that general arrangements for the banquet were completed and that it now remained to give the definite number of plates to the caterer. A total of the tickets purchased at the present time indicated that well over 250 would attend the banquet.

Rev. Lucien Brassard, O.M.I., chairman of the invitation committee, announced that he had been successful in his task and that as a result the association will be honored by the presence of local pastors as well as several Marist Brothers of Lawrence, Haverhill and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

An interesting program of addresses by several of the invited guests has been drawn up along with a series of concerts. The Massachusetts orchestra will furnish music during the banquet. Several copies of the new constitution as recently revised were distributed among the members, the credit being due to a committee headed by Victor J. Alexander, assisted by Rev. Lucien Brassard, O.M.I., Arthur Giroux and Joseph Montminy.

Preliminary plans were also made for the celebration of a solemn high mass to be sung at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock on Thanksgiving morning in commemoration of the deceased members of the association.

During the course of the session the members were addressed by A. St. Hilario, Arthur Gaudette, J. P. Montminy and others.

AT ASSOCIATE HALL

Associate hall tomorrow night will be the scene of the usual battle of the "Mal" Hallers, famous Broadway gymnasium, and Almer Doyle's troupe of artists. Latest dance music between "Mal" Hallers' famous will be featured, while high teams promise new novelties. The dancing surface cannot be improved upon and is one of the best halls in New England. Popular prices prevail for this event and it is well worth the price of admission to witness "Mal" Hallers in action.

REGISTRATION FOR PRIMARIES

The biggest registration of the year occurred yesterday when the election commissioners added 29 new names to the voting lists. By wards the registration was as follows: Ward 1, four; ward 2, nine; ward 3, eight; ward 4, four; ward 5, seven; ward 6, twelve; ward 7, eight; ward 8, five; ward 9, six. Registration sessions will continue today until 4 p. m. and this evening from 7 until 9 o'clock.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

On a level with Stevenson's immortal conception of the struggle for supremacy between a man's good and bad natures, "Mr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is James Kirkwood's performance in "Human Wreckage," depicting the tremendous combat of a man's will power with a body that craves for relief through submission to the curse of the drug. "Human Wreckage" is the famous photodrama produced by Mrs. Wallace Field, following her husband's death, and is being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow. It's one of the highest pictures of the year and should be seen by every photoplay lover. The usual excellent surrounding program is being shown.

OPENING OF FALL
SOCIAL SEASON

The fall social season of the Lowell Knights of Columbus witnessed a favorable opening last evening with a smoker, a program of entertainment, and an interesting discourse on the World Series by Empire "Bob" Hart. The latter gave an interesting talk on his experiences as an arbiter during the Yank-Giant series and held the attention of the members for almost an hour. He was given a hearty ovation by the gathering.

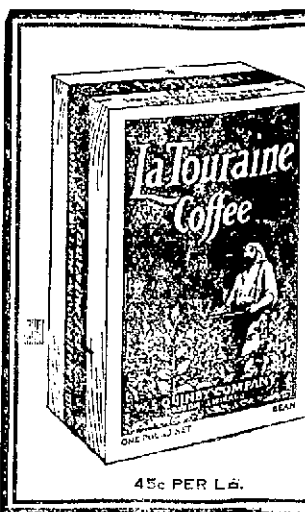

The entertainment consisted of solos by Andrew A. McCarthy, Charles Burns, John W. Kelly, Daniel Brennan, George Sullivan and John Baxter. Brief addresses were made by William P. Thornton and lecturer Edward F. Slattery, Jr.

It was a happy occasion and reflected great credit on the lecturer of the council, Mr. Edward F. Slattery, Jr. Announcement was made that the K. of C. bowling league will get under way next Monday night. Twelve teams are entered and interest is at a high pitch. The schedule for next week is as follows:

Monday, Nov. 5—Team 1 vs. Team 2, Team 3 vs. Team 4.
Tuesday, Nov. 6—Team 5 vs. Team 7, Team 6 vs. Team 8.
Friday, Nov. 9—Team 9 vs. Team 10, Team 11 vs. Team 12.

CONCERT IN BILLERICA

At the Billerica town hall last night a large audience was entertained with a well-balanced and artistically rendered musical program by a group of artists of the Boston Symphony orchestra under the direction of Daniel Kuntz. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Nineteen Hundred club and was the first of a series of entertainments planned by this organization. The following artists appeared: Julius Theodorowicz, first violin; M. Miquelle, cello; Gustav Gerhardt, bass violin; Louis Speyer, alto; George Laurent, flute; Herbert Kuntz, piano; and Daniel Kuntz, conductor.

GROTTO OF LAS PALDAS

Explorations Have Brought to Light Some Important Paleontological Relics

TETUAN, Spanish Morocco, Nov. 2.—Explorations which have been in progress for some time in the grotto of Las Paldas, in the vicinity of Cabo Negro, have brought to light some important paleontological relics. The grotto was found to be filled with prehistoric paintings, while the signs of inhabitation of wild animals such as the fox and bear were frequently seen in stalagmites. Great quantities of siliceous instruments and weapons were discovered, their handles engraved roughly with geometrical signs. Among them are arrows, javelins, knives, hammers and engraving tools. The paintings are colored black and red, representing in one instance a stag 22 meters in length, and in another a human head with strongly marked lines and a prominent forehead. In the farther end of the grotto a heavy wall had been constructed, dividing the rest of the grotto from the entrance, and behind the wall extended four galleries filled with paintings, some of them representing horses, bulls, chamois and stags. Fossil remains of animals were discovered in abundance.

BIG RAINFALL FOR MONTH OF OCTOBER

The rainfall for the month of October 1923, as compiled at the office of the Locks and Canals on Broadway, was a precipitation of 4.458 inches as compared with 2.758 inches during the same period in 1922. The average rainfall for the month of October over a period of 69 years has been 3.12 inches, and this is exceeded by slightly more than one inch this year. Last month was the first in five months to exceed the mean precipitation, but the accumulation for the current year is only 31.959 inches which leaves only two months for the mean figure of 44.85 inches yearly to be attained. The storm of the month past with its rainfall are as follows: Oct. 15, .503 in.; Oct. 18, .613 in.; Oct. 19, .167 in.; Oct. 23, 2.744 in.; and Oct. 30, .431 in.

EMPLOYMENT SHOWS INCREASE

The employment report for October 31st, compiled by the chamber of commerce from 12 representative Lowell industries, shows an increase of 37 over the report of September 30. The textile industries showed an increase of 269 employees while the other industries show a decrease of 182. The total number employed in the 12 industries on Oct. 31 was 12,516 compared to 12,429 on Sept. 30th. On Oct. 31 last year there were 12,958 in the same twelve industries and in 1921 the total number employed was 12,322. Last year one of the industries listed among the 12 employed 319 and since that time it has moved to the south and the number employed in its building here at the present time is but a few. The report does not state how many of those reported working Oct. 31 were working on a three-day schedule but it is known that several of the industries reporting are on such a working schedule.

TWO SESSIONS HERE OF PROBATE COURT TODAY

Two sessions of probate court were held in the Gorham street court house this morning. Judge John C. Leggat presided over a sitting for uncontested cases and Judge A. T. White of Salem heard several contested cases.

The first case called before Judge White was a hearing in the matter of the will of the late Phoebe Trider of Lowell, by the terms of which the estate, valued at about $4000, was left to Mrs. Joseph Barnard of Lowell. The will was contested by Catherine Winter of Swampscott, a nephew of the testator, on the ground that undue influence was used on the part of Mrs. Barnard. The contestant also claimed certain moneys were owed him which he had advanced to the testator. When the evidence was submitted, Attorney Melvin H. Rogers, counsel for Winter, withdrew objection to the probating of the will on an agreement that the executrix Mrs. Barnard, furnish a bond.

A civil suit against the estate will now be entered by Mr. Winter to recover money which he claimed he advanced to his aunt. Uncontested Cases Two uncontested divorce cases were heard before Judge Leggat. Violet W. Hunt of Lowell, was granted a decree from Guy C. Hunt on the ground of cruel and abusive treatment. She was also allowed alimony of $15 per week and was given custody of a minor child. A decree for desertion and non-support was granted Laura Treville of Lowell vs. Wilfred Treville.

Men as mechanics for the air service in the Hawaiian Islands.

The air service offers to recruits the greatest opportunity in the army. Men are trained in government schools by officers who are experts in gasoline engine and airplane construction and, after an enlistment in this service, are eligible to demand highly payed positions because of the training and experience given them while in the service.

Service in the Hawaiian Islands also adds to the attraction. Hawaii is noted for its climate, which is never too hot and never too cold, and men who dread the approach of the New England winter will do well to see Sergt. Kimball and sign up for Hawaiian service.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST FIRES SUCCESSFUL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—A comparatively favorable season has been experienced in the campaign against fires on national forests although destructive fires occurred in Minnesota and Southern California, W. B. Greeley, chief forester, announces. "Fires thus far for 1923, have been fewer and much less destructive than for several years," he says. "Weather conditions have been more favorable than usual and further, I believe the public has become aware to a greater extent than ever before of the terrible menace of man-caused forest fires and has been more careful."

B. & M. LOOKING FOR MORE BUSINESS IN MAINE—FREIGHT SHIPMENTS INTO LOWELL

Information has been received at local headquarters of the Boston & Maine railroad company that a new branch office is to be established in Portland for solicitation of business among Maine shippers and to otherwise look after the railroad's interests in that important territory.

Portland shippers regard this action of the Boston & Maine as an outcome of the controversy now going on in Maine regarding the proposed railroad merger, and indicative of the Boston & Maine's intention to increase freight business over the Worcester, Nashua & Portland division, which the company at the recent hearing in Augusta, was accused of permitting to remain practically idle, so far as freight shipments are concerned. It is this branch line which the McDonald plan of merger would use as a connecting link between the consolidated Maine roads and the New York Central.

Roundhouse Chatter

Freight shipments into Lowell during the past two weeks have shown a slight falling off, according to local car-jerkers in the railroad yards. Not a heavy falling off at all, but a perceptible let-up from the mid-season freight jams and day and night battles straightening out the extras and regulars and finding way for the regular passenger service through the seething yards without serious delays.

The textile mill freight "runs" appear to be fairly crowded with box cars daily, but not all of these contain mill supplies. A big string of "empties" was lined up yesterday morning for north and western destinations—back home to the home lines in the required order. Fewer cars of competing lines are side-tracked and forgotten nowadays owing to the new agreements made by the chief rail organizations to endeavor to return all empty cars in the quickest possible time by shortest routes.

Official car checkers on incoming freight consignments, say cotton shipments to Lowell in October were unusually small—the smallest ever, in fact, for the month of nut cookies, sweet cider and tax bills. About 30 cars of raw cotton came into the various mill yards last week. Yesterday's arrival on the Merrimack spurs were six, checking in before 10 a. m.

Numerous cars of mill material came in Monday, including shipments of machinery for the Saco-Lowell shops.

B. & M. freight handlers say that the largest shipment of cotton into Lowell recently was consigned to the Appleton company. That was only a few weeks ago. Since then cars of cotton, in "ones" and "threes" (car lots) have been shunted onto the mill siding, of the Hamilton and Boott. The Massachusetts mills are not ordering large supplies, according to the car arrivals on the "M" steel spurs. Spot cotton buying is still the rule.

Four new locomotives of the grass-hopper type hauled through Lowell yesterday on their way north. These are to be snowfighters in Arctic climates above the Canadian line this winter. The engineer has a compartment like a pullman car reservation and the fireman could camp out all winter on his side of the partitioned engine cab. Two of the locomotives were of the Baldwin and the others American "Loco" type. One of them might be used on that popular "Lowell local" to ye Hub, which is tarry more or less as usual and cold weather on the way to make things worse.

TEAPOTS

Teapots and coffepots require careful cleansing daily. The leaves or grounds should be removed and the vessel rinsed in cold water, then rinsed with clear hot water. Then they should be scalded, wiped dry and placed where they may air thoroughly.

RENDERED FAT

Save all fats from beef, veal, pork and chickens as this may be used in cooking. It should be rendered and strained through cheesecloth and may be used in place of butter in many instances.

BOSTON IS BECOMING BIG COFFEE CENTRE

The development of Boston as a port for the importation of green coffee beans has been due in large measure to the activities of the Holland Far East Tea, Coffee and Cocoa company, according to Ernest W. Bechard, local representative for the Holland products.

In speaking of Boston's great rise as a coffee centre, Mr. Bechard says: "When Daniel E. Holland and his brother organized the company they realized that Boston was the logical port for the importation of green coffee beans. At that time practically all the coffee consumed in this section was imported at New York and trans-shipped here, the Boston roasters and packers paying a freight rate from New York almost equal to the ship freight from South America to New York.

"Various trade organizations were interested in the conditions and as a result a great change has taken place, saving New Englanders tens of thousands of dollars on their coffee bills.

"From 1895 to 1920," continues Mr. Bechard, "less than 25,000,000 pounds of green coffee entered the port of Boston. In 1921 the tonnage was the largest ever—33,429,042 pounds. This was nearly 35 times the annual average for the 25-year period previously mentioned. The current year promises to surpass the 1921 record and there now seems little doubt that Boston will again become the prime port for coffee importation as it was in 1870."

Seventeen thousand stores in New England now handle Far East goods, according to Mr. Bechard. In this connection, he says: "The reputation of the Holland brothers—Daniel E. and John F.—has been such for the past 20 years in Boston that it has been of immense benefit in establishing a school of business administration has good will for the company. The Holland Dutch Boy trade mark has always stood for quality.

"From the time Holland's Far East Tea, Coffee and Cocoa first went before the public—in 1923—the Holland brothers have shown merchants everywhere some exceedingly good work in merchandising. The Boston university school of business administration has shown a large interest in the advertising campaign of the Holland company, and now has adopted the Far East merchandising possibilities as one of its practical subjects for the marketing advertising course. The result of the students' study and analysis will be turned over to the company at the end of the year."

HIRAM JOHNSON MAKES ATTACK

Sees in Lloyd George's Visit
"A Bold Plan" to Drag
U. S. Into European Affairs

Declares U. S. Will Be Neither
Policeman Nor Collector
Abroad

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 2.—Hiram Johnson sees in Lloyd George's visit to this country, "a bold plan" to convince the people of the United States "by cleverness and smoothness of wit" that their moral obligation is to help Europe collect its debts from Germany, the senior California senator declared in an address here yesterday.

"I deny we will do anything of the sort," he said. "The United States, despite the blandishments of European statesmen or the awkward appeals of any of her own, will be neither policeman nor collector abroad. America will answer the unquenchable cry of human suffering abroad with contributions of money and food, but the nation should stand solidly against participation in Europe's political affairs."

Senator Johnson declared the former premier of Great Britain has made it "perfectly clear" that if Germany refuses to pay, America will be expected to "march with the Allies in deal with her recalcitrance." He accused London of having awaited the "psychological moment" to make public the correspondence between Secretary of State Hughes and "my Lord" Curzon, relative to America's participation in German reparations negotiations.

ROOSEVELT VICTOR IN MAIDEN DEBATE

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The circumstances of the forensic victory of Theodore Roosevelt when as a 22-year-old first term in the New York assembly, he carried the day in a public debate before the aristocratic Nineteenth Century club in New York city against one of the most famous publicists of the day, were revealed last night by the former president's sister, Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson.

Speaking before the Woman's Roosevelt Republican club here, Mrs. Robinson told of the attempt of a great New York editor to luster the "young Roosevelt reformer" of the assembly, by engaging him in a club debate against a famous publisher, renowned for his argumentative bent.

Invited to select his great theme, the young assemblyman launched enthusiastically upon an exposition of "Americanism," which he defined as "unstarred activity for the national welfare."

Faint applause was accorded the youth's arguments, and as the famous editor rose to begin his 15-minute rebuttal to Roosevelt's half-hour argument, the laurels rested with the opposition.

Americanism, the rebuttal set forth, was only one of a thousand "isms"—all of them the creations and fads of zealous after-dinner speakers. Indeed, Americanism was a topic hardly worthy of debate "in these circles."

"I watched my brother with some misgiving as his vigorous appeal was effectively torn to shreds by the dignified address of the great editor," Mrs. Robinson said. "Then in an instant, his face lighted, and I saw the faint marks of a smile which later we learned to hail as the mark of victory."

Rising amid the enveloping applause for his opponent, young Roosevelt stepped himself for his final rebuttal. "Gentlemen," he said, with winning earnestness, "my distinguished opponent has condemned 'isms' most ably. I am granted five minutes to reply. I shall not consume that time. I shall not request a full minute. 'Gentlemen—I commend to your thoughtful consideration but a single word—patriotism.'"

"A thunder of applause greeted the reply, and thus, with Americanism—the theme of his first and last public address to America—was Roosevelt acclaimed victor in his maiden public debate.

"That was when I was 18," Mrs. Robinson concluded.

The Red Triangle

ried men are greatly in the minority at the "Y" dorms and generally stay but a short time—long enough to get lost, arrange to have their furniture sent here, and so on, before settling up housekeeping. The married population is pretty much of the "shifting" nature while the young men seem to hold on pretty long before leaving the association's dorms.

Friends of Mayor Grant delight in twitting him over the records of his three predecessors. All came to the "Y" as single men, served a term as mayor, then married some fair Lowell bit of femininity and started housekeeping. His friends all assert a third room door, according to the stars and to precedent, should be vacant about this time in 1924. Archie, of course, is not committal.

The population of the village, by floors, gives 18 men as residents of the second floor, 38 on the third floor and 23 on the top floor. The majority are in some way connected with the mills or manufacturing industries here, although all walks of life from laborer to lawyer are represented. Clerks are in the majority. Many states and far-off countries have their sons on the "tax lists" of Red Triangle Village, but Massachusetts men of course are greatly in the majority.

At present there are only a half dozen or so of Textile school students at the "Y." In former years this number was generally much greater but of late the students have shown a preference of clubbing together and hiring bachelor flats or of living in the fraternally houses nearer the school.

Sixty-nine of the residents today at the village are Massachusetts men. One lone New Yorker graces the register. Vermont has one son in the village. The old Granite state is represented by six men. Seven sons of Canada live there, while two men have listed their permanent residences, the place they call home, as England.

From the Nutmeg and the Keystone states there is one lone representative each. Sweden, France, Ohio, Maine, North Carolina and Oklahoma, each also have one son in the village.

With probably 15 "clerks," which include several varieties of "white collar workers" from ribbon clerks to assistants to executives, the list of occupations is a long and interesting one.

Four list themselves as millhands, while among the "textile students" are several who are learning the business the practical way. One chauffeur, one cost accountant, two receiving clerks and a blacksmith are also listed.

There are two advertising writers, two reporters, two writers, six salesmen, one shoemaker, two auto mechanics and one sheet metal worker listed. Also there is one carpenter and by chance a carpenter's helper. Six salesmen, two physical instructors, one Textile school professor and one business school instructor also grace the lists.

One laborer, one shoe cutter, two printers, one bookkeeper, one "foundry manager," one dyer, two draftsmen, three chemists, one laboratory man, and one secretary are found in the card index on Secretary Marchand's desk.

One assistant textile superintendent and one floorwalker are listed. A baker, a janitor, a machinery equipment man, several machinery erectors, two steamfitters, four engineers, one assistant engineer, and one master mechanic about complete an interesting list.

B. & M. Looking For More Business

Just starting his 48th year as a railroad man on the old New Haven. The yards know him well. He has run for years on the Framingham line and still holds the ticket punch on that one-track road that never shows its age, at least between Lowell and Acton. Boyle

"Remodeling a Wife"

is the title of a story every woman will finish once she starts it. A story of a woman's struggle against her husband's determination to change her character, running exclusively in the

has been punching pasteboards so long that he looks younger every day. He is a native of Lowell—one of the survivors of the old original Bleachery district in the South End. The Boyle family still occupies the old-fashioned mansion that stands royally at 110 Congress street, set apart from its neighbors and peacefully guarding all the hoyleys on their journey to the end of the line. It is a tradition with "Jim" Boyle that he can rest better in that ancient homestead than anywhere else on top of the earth, for the old gang of baseball champions who used to battle on the rough diamond just back of the Boyle home just about where the former C. I. Flood medicine manufacturing plant stands, no longer play the national game with the enthusiasm that sent half a dozen champs into the baseball halls of fame. Boyle was one of the crack first basemen and an active fielder, too, but memories won't bring those happy days back to the old Bleachery section that has changed with the years.

Engineer Whittier of the Boston-Framingham division of the New Haven, moved on Monday last from his former home in Mansfield to this city, where he has lived before. The change in the New Haven service to southern points, now in force, made it necessary for Whittier to change his place of residence or give up his job. Formerly he ran two trains a day—the incoming morning passenger train from Mansfield to Lowell and the outgoing night train back to Mansfield to connect with rail service taking Lowellites to the Fall River boats for New York. Radical changes now conserve money and lighten the transportation pay-rolls. Engineer Whittier and Conductor "Jim" Boyle with one brakeman, now handle a so-called "shuttle service" between Lowell and Framingham, running four trains a day back and forth.

Formerly running through from Lowell to Mansfield, the morning outward bound train only as far as Framingham, where passengers for New York have to change for Mansfield and then change again for the remainder of the journey. Whittier and Boyle, running the "shuttle," immediately make the return trip to Lowell, arriving at 8:55 a. m., providing those four eternally present Chelmsford coaches don't travel too far on the railroad tracks on their way to the back pasture. The same crew try to leave Lowell for Framingham at 5:03 each night and return from that town to Lowell, leaving at 6:30 and rumbling into the Middlesex street station promptly at 7:30 if all goes well along the way and the south freight yards are open wide enough to squeeze through. Only two cars constitute the little Framingham "scooter" now. They are old-timers, but still serviceable and friend Whittier gets all the steam possible out of old 6013, and sometimes a little bit more, even with the 13 in it.

The private cars occupied by the Boston slingers were named Penelope and Penryn—notable examples of the latest in Pullman design and accessories. The cars are lighted by electricity and heated by the storage current when necessary. The sleeping service is much more satisfactory than is found in some of the old-style Pullmans. Railroadmen got the gold letters "Penelope" all right the first thing, but "Penryn" caused several of the curious inspectors to stutter a bit before the laymen.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatrical News Agents

THE HILTO THEATRE

Baseball, romance, thrills and humor are all combined in a happy combination in "Trifling With Honor," now playing at the Hilto theatre. It tells the story of an ex-convict who became a Babe Ruth and the idol of the baseball world. The big thrill comes in the climax when Ben Shugrue knocks a home run and wins the big series. In spite of the fact the gambler ring holds a weapon over his head and wanted him to double-cross his own team, in order to satisfy the bets placed by them. In the end you will find Rockville, Hayden Stevenson, Fritz Ridgeway, Buddy Messenger and others.

Richard Talmadge, billed as "the human dynamo," certainly lives up to his name in "The Speed King," a fast moving comedy drama, that will keep you on edge every minute. Talmadge performs a few stunts that will make you sit up and take notice; he's a wonder.

"Rob 'Em Good," a burlesque on "Robin Hood," with Bull Montana and the latest episode of "The Social Buccaneer" complete the bill.

CROWN THEATRE

Harry Carey's rescue of Fred Stanton, more real than will be imagined by picture patrons, forms one of the many spectacular features in "Canyon of the Moon," his fourth starring vehicle for F.B.O. release, and coming to the Crown theatre today.

Clayton plays the leading female role opposite Carey, with the supporting cast including Fred Stanton, Joseph Harris, Carmen Arzelle, Jack Curtis, Charles J. Le Moyne, Vester Pegg, Mardock, MacQuarrie and Mignonne Golden.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Lloyd, Thach's Entertainers, reinforced by Margie Conde, can certainly put across real snappy, stepping music, and is without question one of the greatest of its kind on the screen. The combination is criticism-proof; in other words, it is flawless. There are many other good things on this week's bill, including Simpson & Dean in a feature with a startling finish; Maxfield & Girls. This is a pleasing relief from the other extreme of entertainment as provided by the former story. The comedy and weekly are great. Mutual numbers are always enjoyable, and Grand comfort is to be had at no other theatre.

THE STRAND

"The Spoilers," the great story of early Alaska, by Rex Beach, which is playing at the Strand during the week-end, is without question one of the most thrilling light ever screened is shown. The cast of characters present some of the stellar lights. The second feature is William Russell in "Goodbye, net with a startling finish; Maxfield & Girls." This is a pleasing relief from the other extreme of entertainment as provided by the former story. The comedy and weekly are great. Mutual numbers are always enjoyable, and Grand comfort is to be had at no other theatre.

THE TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

Nearly everybody has a plan to relieve congestion of traffic in the downtown districts. Mayor Donovan has suggested a street from East Merrimack street, near the square, to Warren street, over the canal along the railroad track, and passing out between the Strand theatre building and the Ipswich mill. His plan would make it a one way street. As such it would help to relieve congestion at the square and around the Auditorium.

The Planning board has a different solution to offer, a sketch of which appeared in yesterday's Sun, showing the proposed lines of a street extending from East Merrimack street through Davidson and bridging the Concord, either to connect with George street or Warren street. The latter course would be the more direct and probably the less expensive. It remains for the Planning board, or else a committee of engineers and builders appointed by the city council to settle upon the lines of any such street and make an estimate of the cost before a final action can be taken. The fact that both streets would run through factory buildings makes it a certainty that the damage claims would be quite heavy. There is no reason why from all these suggestions a practical solution of the difficulties to be overcome in the business district cannot be evolved.

Of course much can be attained by diverting through traffic from the congested points. This can be done by improving Appleton, Church and High streets, Thorneike and Fletcher streets and a few other thoroughfares of like importance.

AN ALL AMERICAN LEAGUE

Congressman Britten, of Illinois, after a visit to Europe comes out strongly in favor of our building up a League of the Americas as embodied in the Pan-American union, rather than once more involving ourselves in the turmoil of European intrigue.

He has made six trips to Europe since the Armistice and the information thus gathered has convinced him that the logical aim of American statesmanship should be to work for the solidarity of the American republics. At the present time, his policy is gaining ground and an effort is being made to overcome the jealousy of some of the South American republics, based on the assumption that the United States is wielding too much authority under the Monroe doctrine, which they regard as a political bugbear.

The one great objection to the all-American union would be that a similar combination in the old world would militate against our possession of the Philippines, or any other territory in the eastern hemisphere. It is plain, therefore, that consistency forbids a policy of strict isolation for the reason that the converse of such a policy might be applied against us by foreign nations.

"AS TO CANNED GOODS"

Count Tolstoy, son of the Russian writer, remarks that we are well on our way to the civilization of canned food, canned music, canned drama and canned thought. There is much truth in what the count says for the reason that great progress has been made in all the lines he mentions. It would be well for Russia if she did a little more in the canning business. It cannot be denied that canned food from the United States saved millions of lives in Russia during the last few years. Canned music and canned thought, which are here mentioned, offer great possibilities of education for the masses and to these the people of Russia are total strangers.

The canning business as so designated, is not to be scoffed at. It is one of the steps forward in civilization by which we are able to preserve products that would otherwise perish or be lost and to send our surplus and our thought in "canned" form down the ages. So far as food is concerned, the canning process provides a method of preservation under which food products otherwise perishable can be transported to the uttermost ends of the earth for the relief of famine and thus save the lives of countless millions. Canning is, therefore, one of the most important developments of the present age and as applied to music, moving pictures and the drama, it is the product of the highest order of inventive genius. The sooner Count Tolstoy's country realizes this fact, the better will it be for all her people.

LOWELL'S SHOE INDUSTRIES

Lowell's numerous shoe industries are waiting patiently for the new business orders covering the 1924 "Easter run" with entire optimism. A tour of the medium-grade shoe manufacturing plants, large and small, brings out this fact. While some manufacturers are a little puzzled by present market conditions, there has been no backward step, no halt in steady operations, with orders on the books fairly large for the regular styles.

There is evidence that the fall and winter "run" in some of the large shoe shops of Lowell will be on a normal scale as several concerns have already exhibited a sizable stock of new style samples that will undoubtedly draw the required orders. This is the feeling in the wideawake shoe shops of Lowell today, where large numbers of men and women are on the payroll. It is positive evidence of a normal and normal prosperity in this line of the local industrial center and full proof of the wisdom of the low-cost policy of the new industrial plant, for it shows that as an ideal for the production of medium grade shoes at a time of retrenchment on the part of the buying public.

THE RUM TREATY

Great Britain is entering into an arrangement with our government to cooperate with the federal agents who are trying to stop the importation of liquor. Some time ago, it was announced that the federal authorities would permit British ships to bring liquor into port under seal if England permitted them to search for vessels for liquor twelve miles from shore. It seems that this understanding has been ratified between the two governments, but how about the ships of other countries entering our ports with liquor aboard? The privilege that is conceded to England cannot be denied to France, Italy, Japan, Germany or any other country. In all probability the importation of liquor from Canada, Bermuda and Jamaica will continue same as before the rum

A Thought

A friend should be like money, tried before being required, not found faintly in our need.—Plutarch.

Wanted a Pup

An elderly gentleman was pressed into service to escort a niece to a supper dance. Finding himself very much out of place, he sought a secluded spot behind a screen and fell into a half doze. A couple of soppers happened along and he overheard the following conversation: "Lo, girlie," "Lo." "Can you loan me a puff?" "Powder or elegance?"

The English Accent

Vincent Astor, homeward bound on the Mauretania, said one evening: "I like the English accent. I attended a dance last week on an English man-of-war, and as I arrived I saw some sailors putting the finishing touches to a lot of queer canny contrivances. 'What are those things you're building?' I asked a sailor. He might have answered that they were shelters for sitting out, but he put it more neatly than that. 'Ct for 'logins' he said."

An Old Landmark

Happening by the old location of the Hanson stable recently—the scene of that disastrous fire, you recollect—I noticed that most of the debris has been cleaned away, leaving but a few piles of charred boards and bent and twisted beams and a few stone foundations, now crumbled and fire-eaten. But over on the left hand side of the burned area I discovered, still standing meekly in its old position and prominently before the eye because of its seeming isolation, the stonish, old-fashioned, hand-carved granite watering trough, used by the horses quartered at the stables for scores of years. The big stone with its water basin chipped out slowly by some bygone stonemason is rather imposing in some ways. It stands about three feet high and is one solid block of granite. Some stonemason has chipped out the four sides with care and method. The rim of the basin is very smooth and worn, indicating where the chills of countless horses and cattle have rubbed as they lapped the water. I noticed a few patches of moss on the top of the stone. I haven't asked anyone at the new Hanson stables what they are going to do with this sturdy relic of the great stable fire that wiped out the old establishment, but I would suggest that Mr. H. and his wise-wake right-hand man now handling the blankets and water trough right where it is as a memorial to happy days.

Parlances

He came to me when all the world seemed dark.
"Touch my light," he said, "and I'll be there."
He came and sat beside me in the park
And looked his understanding in my eyes.
We talked, as man to man, I told him
How I felt, and he—well, he failed.
And so he said, he said, but would not Say a word, though everywhere he failed.
His touch upon my knee brought Peace and joy.
His lip to mine brought me up.
We parted now, we're going to see
If the touch is true.
I said that blessed, brave-souled,
Dear old man.
—H. F. WHITE, in Los Angeles Times.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

In a few months a grand tour will be formed in this city by the local headquarters. The scoutmaster or "skipper" will be H. B. Leggat, who was the prime factor in the Navy day celebration in Lowell, and his assistant will be Walter C. Lindsay, of 49 North street, who has received his training at Tabor academy. The navy department has promised to send the new troop a full sized cutter for the use of the boys in their instruction. It is expected that the troop will be organized about next February. In this group the boys are taught the elements of seamanship in addition to the other principles of scouting. The Navy club of this city is sponsoring this division of the work.

The local fire department is so pleased with the work that boy scouts are doing that the campaign this week for funds has been supported by them in every way possible. Pledge cards have been distributed to every member of the department and considerable enthusiasm worked

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION ACTIVITIES AT HANOVER

COURSES AT C. Y. M. L.

In accordance with a vote taken by the members of the C. Y. M. L., a meeting of all males interested in the formation of a university extension course will be held this evening in the school hall, Suffolk street. The number of classes will depend entirely upon the number wishing to enroll. The subjects will be such as those which are admirable as the building itself has been a school for many years. Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L., the pastor of St. Patrick's parish, and Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, spiritual director of the Lyceum, are deeply interested in the project, and nothing would please them more than a capacity gathering of tonight's gathering. The meeting will be called at 8 o'clock.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

C. B. Stoddard's camp at Corbett's pond, Windham, N. H., was the scene of a very enjoyable Halloween party, Wednesday evening. The party was given by the Misses Pearl and Vera Stoddard, of 22 Merrimack street. The camp was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and Halloween novelties. Games and dancing were the features of the evening program. At 11 o'clock refreshments were served. Those who shared the pleasures of the evening returned to Lowell at a late hour.

The firemen realize the amount of help that they can receive from a good organization of scouts in this city and want to see it successfully started on its way to a big year. This is only one of the many places that the boys are taught to be of service to the public.

Wait until the B Battery boys get into that big military parade to be held in Lowell about the middle of November. Harvard citizens are to see a military demonstration embracing almost every branch of the United States service and one of the most pretensions ever witnessed outside of the regular army cantonments. The dates are Nov. 12, 13 and 14. Besides the visiting troops, there will be a platoon of field artillery from the national guard, and the members of the local boys are enthusiastic about their invitation to participate in the military carnival.

With a New York-owned chain store system distributing standard weight and quality loaves of bread in Lowell for six cents per loaf, who comes next? It wasn't so very long ago that a great bread-distributing concern with headquarters in Boston, cut the price of its alleged staff of life from 14 to 11 cents, guaranteeing better bread, more vitamins, etc. Lowell expert bakers say that same product, after a few weeks' exhibition on the counters of local stores, was cheapened in quality and became such that Lowell housekeepers refused to buy it. Materials used in baking cheap bread are not always of high standard, although some of the outside bakeries get inside the legal requirements.

Rev. Percy C. Thomas of this city was among the speakers in advocacy of a resolution passed at a meeting of the Andover Association of Congregational churches this week, condemning the "lawlessness at the present time and warning candidates for public office that they cannot expect to receive the votes of church members unless they stand for the fullest enforcement of the law." The resolution further reads in part that "the non-enforcement of the 18th amendment is a disgrace to our communities and our state, and this Andover Association of Congregational churches and ministers in full meeting do hereby solemnly call the attention of our churches to the importance of being definitely lined up with the forces of law and order."

Because of the big demand for tickets at the football games this fall, someone rises to ask if football will eventually take the place of baseball as the leading American game? We hardly think it will, because baseball covers a longer span, is not so hazardous, and does not take so much out of an athlete. But there is a good deal to be said about football. There is something about a football crowd that sets you. The cheering section, the vehicle of the officials, the beautiful girls wrapped up in furs, all go to instill a rosy feeling that is lacking in baseball.

Dartmouth Opens Two-Day Period Never Equalled in Its 155 Years of Existence

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 2.—Dartmouth college today opens a two-day period of activity never equalled in its 155 years of existence. Included in the program are four athletic contests, headed by the Cornell-Dartmouth football game tomorrow; the Dartmouth night game against the dedication of the Memorial arch in honor of the 112 Dartmouth graduates who lost their lives in the World war; culminating in the presentation of the Memorial field to the college and the dedication of the new stadium with the Cornell football game.

The dedication of the Memorial arch bearing a bronze tablet with the college's honor roll, will take place tonight. The archway is one of the landmarks of the stadium, which will seat 7200 persons and which was built at a cost of $100,000.

Included in the day's activities is a soccer game between Dartmouth and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Tomorrow morning, the Dartmouth and Cornell cross country teams will meet. The exercises will come to their climax with the dedication of the stadium tomorrow at which time the memorial committee will present the athletic field to the college. Dartmouth football teams have taken part in the dedication of athletic fields or stadiums at Harvard, the University of Washington, Princeton and the University of Vermont, and in each instance, defeated the opposing team. The new athletic field is complete, including provision for baseball, diamonds, track, tennis courts, track and a hockey rink.

WALTON TO CHALLENGE MANY CHARGES

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Governor J. C. Walton will go before the Senate court of impeachment today to challenge many of the charges upon which he is being tried for official misconduct.

Argument on his demurrer to 14 of the 22 articles constituting the indictment upon which he was impeached, will be heard, with the prospect that legal jockeying over the action will prevent actual bringing of the trial, until next Monday or Tuesday. After a decision on the demurrer, the governor must enter his formal plea.

Charging that the 14 allegations either do not constitute impeachable offenses or are based on insufficient evidence, counsel for the executive filed the demurrer at the close of the first session of the hearing late yesterday after failing in their efforts to obtain a continuance and to quash the entire bill of impeachment.

MR. HARRIS SPEAKS AT GREENHALGE SCHOOL

An audience of over 50 teachers and parents listened to an interesting talk by Principal Henry H. Harris, of the high school, delivered in the Greenhalge school yesterday afternoon before the members of the Parent-Teachers association. Mr. Harris spoke on the general subject of high school preparation.

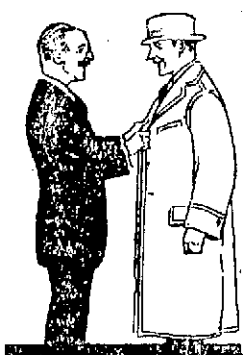

The main element that is lacking in boys and girls coming into high school, is the knowledge of the proper way to study and sometimes these pupils even graduate successfully without ever having learned, according to Mr. Harris. This instruction should be given in the elementary schools and a proper sense of interest in school work developed.

He explained the various courses in the high school curriculum, and in particular he praised the commercial department, in which 43 per cent of the total student body is enrolled. The success of this department, he declared to be due to the generosity of the school committee in providing a complete equipment.

The need of getting a good start, was emphasized by Mr. Harris, who stated that most of the failures came from pupils not settling down to the work early in the year, and then being unable to overcome the handicap.

Mr. Harris was introduced by Principal John G. Wolcott of the Greenhalge school, who also introduced Miss Frances Brownstein, pianist, and Horatio B. Leggat soloist, Miss Brownstein played the waltz in D flat by Chopin, and the "Sextet from Lucia" with arrangement for the left hand only, by Lechitzky. Mr. Leggat sang the "Frier Song" and "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses." The program was in charge of Miss Lucy Desmond. The address was followed by a business meeting at which Mrs. G. G. Cline, chairman, presided, and a small gift of appreciation was presented. Mrs. John T. Ashton for the work she had done as the first president of the association. The secretary's report of the last meeting was read by Miss Alice Dudley, and accepted, and 28 new members were admitted. Refreshments were served by the social committee, Mrs. Edna Cluff, chairman.

VETERAN OF WHITE ARMY

Ivan Chernokoff, Son of Gen. Chernokoff, Who Saw Service Under Czar, Arrives

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 2.—Ivan Chernokoff, a youthful veteran of the White Army, whose campaign against the bolshevik forces ended in disaster four or five years ago, and son of Gen. Ivan Chernokoff, who saw service in the Russian Imperial army under three czars, the last of the Romanoff rulers, was a passenger on the North German Lloyd liner Sevdlitz, which resumed her voyage to New York today.

He came here from Jugo-Slavia, where he has made his home the past three years and where his father now resides. He hopes to complete his education in this country.

AUTO FINE COLLECTIONS FOR OCTOBER

Statistics in the clerk's office of the district court show that the sum of $2460 was paid to the treasurer of the commonwealth during the month of October as the result of fines collected in the district court for violations of the automobile laws. A comparison of last month's figures with those of the preceding months shows an increase. In October of $724 more than the next closest month, July, when $1736 was collected.

It would seem that the large October total vindicates the assertion of State Registrar Goodwin that the month just passed and the present month are the worst of the year as far as automobile law violations are concerned.

The local records, including automobiles and motorcycles, since the first of the year are as follows: January, $32; February, none; March, $130; April, $265; May, $1015; June, $102; July, $1736; August, $1250; September, $1166; October, $2460. Total, $2335.

FOUR-CORNERED FIGHT FOR COUNCILOR

A four-cornered fight for councilor nominations in ward 9 developed today with the candidacy of Richard C. Campbell, 11 Bourne street, an unsuccessful candidate in that district last year.

Mrs. Annie D. Donovan, a member of the school committee in 1922, took out papers for the board, raising the list to nine candidates, only one of whom, however, John R. de la Parra, has filed papers with the election commissioners.

Councilor papers filed today were those of Arthur Genest, ward 7; Thomas McFadden, ward 9; Daniel F. Moriarty, ward 5, all seeking re-election. The time for filing papers expires tomorrow, Saturday, at 5 p.m.

MACHINES DISABLED IN COLLISION HERE

A Mack truck owned by Libby & Co., of Boston, collided with a Memnon demonstrator car owned by the S. H. C. company at the junction of Westford and Chelmsford streets this noon and as a result of the collision, both machines were disabled. According to the driver of the Marmon, T. J. Coffey, the accident was caused by a third machine that went on its way after the accident without ascertaining the damage done. The Mack truck was coming down Westford street and the Marmon going up Chelmsford towards Westford street when this third machine cut in ahead of the Marmon and directly in front of the truck. The driver of the truck swung his machine sharply to the left to avoid striking the third car and smashed into the Marmon. The forward parts of both machines were badly smashed.

1500 PAIRS OF SHOES IN DUMP PILE

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Apparently abandoned by some faint-hearted thief, about 1500 pairs of shoes were found on a dump pile in the East Boston district today. Earlier customers were flocking to the bargain counter when the police arrived, carted off the footwear and began a search for the owner.

than 150 members from Lowell and outside granges in attendance shortly before 11 o'clock, when retiring Master Clyde Wescott called the members to order.

The list of grangers chosen for official duties next year under the lead of Mrs. Mooney, the new master, is as follows: Overseer, Mrs. Lillian Snow, Tyngsboro; lecturer, Mrs. Harry Dawson, North Tewksbury (third year); assistant steward, Fred Fletcher, Chelmsford; steward, Mrs. Evelyn Richardson, Burlington; sentinel, Mrs. Etta Spaulding, Chelmsford; treasurer, Norman L. Peavey, Danvers; secretary, Mrs. Lulu M. Hutchins.

A genuine boiled dinner with various delicacies from farm homestead kitchens was served to members and guests at 12:30 this afternoon in the dining hall. Officers of the American Legion auxiliaries of Haverhill, Chelmsford, Tewksbury and Westford were present as invited guests, with Mrs. John Vinal and Mrs. Emily Blodgett acting as hostesses. The American Ladies' orchestra provided lively music during the dinner hour and up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the open public session was scheduled.

The afternoon program that proved of interest from the numerous attractive events crowded into the grange annual entertainment offering, included music by the orchestra, readings by Mrs. Millicent Tacy, lecturer of Danstable grange; piano duets by Misses Gladys and Edna Whitney; "The Soldier's Rose," solo, by Brother Gifford of Medford.

Capt. Joseph Molloy, commander of the Lowell American Legion, and Stephen C. Garrity, former commander of the Lowell post and now commander of Middlesex County Legion, were among the afternoon speakers, the former explaining some of the objectives of the legion organization, and Mr. Garrity revealing some of the work being done for disabled soldiers.

The fifth grange degree will be explained to a large class of candidates tonight at 8 o'clock in the same hall.

INVITED TO TAKE PART IN PARADE

Members of the C.M.T.C. camps held at Camp Devens during August, 1922, 1922 and 1923 have received notice that they are invited to participate in the parade to be held on Sunday, Nov. 11 in Boston in celebration of Armistice day. This is the first time that the members of the camps have been assembled outside of the training period. There are approximately 200 men in this city who have attended these camps, and while figures are not available it is probable that many will join in the Lowell delegation to the Hub on that day. The marshal of this division is Col. Bolles, an old veteran of many campaigns who commanded the camps of 1921 and 1922, with a wonderful amount of success and is beloved by all the local men who came in contact with him.

2,250,000 HOGS VICTIMS OF CHOLERA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. Cholera killed approximately four per cent. of the hogs on farms in the United States during the last year. The bureau of animal industry, announcing this estimate today, said losses were heaviest in Iowa, Nebraska, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Georgia, Minnesota and South Dakota. In the order named. Each of these states, it is estimated, lost more than 100,000 head from the disease.

The total number of swine lost from hog cholera exceeded 2,250,000, valued approximately at $29,393,000.

The department of agriculture is urging the preventive serum treatment combined with strict sanitation and thorough disinfection of premises after outbreaks as the most effective way to control the disease.

SEN. PEPPER TALKS ON VOLSTEAD LAW

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. Senator George William Pepper of Pennsylvania in an address last night before the Illinois Women's Republican club, declared that in 10 years' time, those who now break the Volstead law will "either have changed their point of view, or died, or become unpopular." He declared himself for rigid enforcement of the 18th amendment.

Although prohibition enforcement at present is the greatest national question in his opinion, he said he could not see how it would be a party issue. "It is to be expected," he said, "that state officers will blame their enforcement deficiencies upon the nation, and that the nation will relegate upon the states."

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD

Various Questions Discussed
at Regular Weekly Meeting,
Yesterday Afternoon

The board of public service held its regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and acted upon a number of questions which came up for discussion.

It was voted to approve the purchase of two new dump wagons for the ash department, at a cost of $325 each and upon the request of Mayor John J. Donovan a conference with representatives of public service corporations in relation to the opening of streets was set for next Thursday afternoon at the usual meeting hour. This request from the mayor was prompted by a belief that permits issued for the opening of streets are not being conforming to inasmuch as surfaces are not being replaced in original conditions. The letter upon the matter follows:

Board of Public Service,
Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, Chairman,
Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: It is apparent that the permits issued to public service corporations to tear up our streets for purposes of installation of materials necessary for development of service to the public, and on condition that the streets so torn up be put in as good and safe condition as formerly, are not properly conforming to.

Some of our best paved streets are broken into and little regard given to repair afterwards. It is a matter that should be checked up very carefully, and if the work of repaving the streets is not properly attended to, a just assessment of damages should be made.

I would suggest that your board call into conference the heads of the various public service corporations together with the mayor for the purpose of arriving at a definite understanding and program in relation to street repairs by public service corporations.

Very truly yours,
JOHN J. DONOVAN, Mayor.
Considerable time was taken up by a discussion of the new Cherry &

Wadd construction at Merrimack and John streets. Herbert Rugg appeared before the board to remonstrate against the placing of steel piers into the sidewalk area. Parley E. Gilbert, architect, explained the construction and said the piers come out into the sidewalk for a distance of only six inches and are the same as those which were a part of the old Five Cent Savings bank building. The board felt the matter was one for the law department to decide and referred it to Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds. The board acted on a communication from Lowell post, American Legion, relative to the naming of three squares for World war heroes, referred to it by the council and authorized the preparation of the necessary orders.

Councillor Arthur Genest appeared before the board relative to a dump nuisance in the rear of the Textile school and also favored the installation of lights in the vicinity of Conduit street and the river bank. The health department also informed the board of a number of complaints received about the dump in question and asked that it be abandoned and covered over with fresh soil. It was referred to Supt. Harrington of the ash and waste division.

SETTLEMENT OF CLAIMS

Recommendations for Legislation Limiting Authority of Comptrollers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Recommendation for legislation limiting the authority of the comptroller general's office in the settlement of claims against the government, are forecast as a result of disclosures before the senate committee investigating the Veterans' bureau.

Sharp questioning and comments by the senators followed the frank statement to the committee yesterday by W. E. Gordon, an attorney in the comptroller's office, whose salary is $2000 a year, that he had settled a claim of $33,000 in full without reference of the matter to his superiors or calling for detailed information from the Veterans' bureau which disallowed the claim.

The bill passed upon was that of Matthew O'Brien, a San Francisco architect, who claimed this sum for re-writing plans for a projected hospital at Livermore, Cal., for the original drafting of which the Veterans' bureau already had paid $64,000.

Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau, disallowed the claim and filed a counter one for $5000 against O'Brien on the ground that he had been overpaid for the first drawings.

Gordon said he was following the procedure of the general accounting office in disposing of the claim in the manner in which he did. Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, said he thought there should be legislation affecting the general accounting office, while Senators Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, and Odell, republican, Nevada, the other members of the committee, expressed surprise at the manner in which the office operated.

After four successive days of hearings, the Veterans' committee was in recess today.

PARTING MESSAGE

BY LLOYD GEORGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press)—David Lloyd George tonight delivers his parting message to the American people.

At the Metropolitan Opera House, on the eve of his departure for his homeland, Britain's war time premier will face the last public gathering of his present tour which has carried him to more than a score of American and Canadian cities.

The staff of the opera house is prepared to handle a crowd which is expected to fill the large theatre and to overflow the streets. Elaborate police protection is in readiness to handle the crowd and to nip in the bud any possible antagonistic demonstration on the part of Irish republicans who have threatened to attempt to heckle their British statesman.

Young Married Women Need Mother's Advice—

MRS. PEARL STEELE
203 MAIN ST., WARRENSBURG, MO.

A GREAT many women after childbirth get up too soon and, too weak to care for the child and perform their household duties, often bring on serious derangements.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid tonic to take at this time; it is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers. Thousands of mothers advise their daughters to take this grand old root and herb medicine for such conditions because of their own favorable experience with it.

Following We Publish an Interesting Letter From Mrs. Steele of Warrensburg, Which Should Interest Every Mother in the Land:

WARRENSBURG, MO.—"When my second child was born I got up too soon as my mother wasn't able to do for me. I could not stand on my feet without being dizzy and my back would ache so badly that I would have to lie down at times through the day. My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a bottle of it at the time so she begged me to take it which I did and I cannot tell you how much better I felt after taking it. Then a year later my husband got back from overseas and we went to keeping house but ourselves and I got all run down again. I couldn't work long at a time but would have to sit down and rest. My husband kept begging me to take the Vegetable Compound again so I have done so. I recommend it when I can as I know it is good for women's troubles and I thought you might like to know what it has done for me."—MRS. PEARL M. STEELE, 203 Main St., Warrensburg, Mo.

Another Interesting Case

CHESTER, PA.—"I was all run-down and in a weak condition when I married. I had many of the troubles women often have and the birth of my children left me almost a wreck. One day my brother-in-law was visiting us and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I said, 'It's no use, as nothing does me any good.' He asked me if I would take it he would buy it, and to please him I said, 'Yes.' He bought me three bottles before there was a change, so you see I was pretty badly off. I couldn't do any work before this, and kept a girl. I got so well I did my own work and later had more children and kept my good health. I do all my work and take in sewing too, and am raising plans for Memorial Day. I feel younger than I did at twenty because I have good health."—MRS. L. A. LANEY, 1125 Madison St., Chester, Pa.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor, Lowell Sun: In its October 19th issue, "Le Clairon," a small weekly published in French, took to task the Centralville Social club—whose membership is composed of citizens of French extraction—because it chose to print in English the program of its second annual social and dance given in Associate hall for the benefit of the club's building fund.

The editorial in question is headed: "What has become of our great nation?" and it purports to condemn the Centralville Social club for its implied unpatriotic use of the English language in a program designed for the public at large. In reference to said program, it also terms "ridiculous" a few words entitled "An Appreciation" because the Centralville Social club "thanks in the language of Shakespeare" advertisers and patrons of the dance who contributed to its financial success. "Le Clairon" further remarks that the Centralville Social club should be called "Le Club Social de Centralville" and that "it is a French-American club that chooses its name and repudiates its language."

Such utterances are indefensible when made in connection with an American club whose sole offense has been the use, on a public occasion, of a language which is the common denominator of the various races composing the American people. The majority of naturalized American citizens of French extraction and the totality of those of that racial strain who are American-born and American-bred recognize on all occasions the priority and desirability of the English language in this country and those among us and they are many—who also cling to the French language do so only as one does to an old family heirloom one holds dear for sentimental reasons. We respect the grand French language, but it cannot and should not supersede the English on such occasions.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, kindly allow us to protest, through the medium of your paper, against the outgivings of "Le Clairon" insofar as they aim to create or perpetuate a most undesirable racial animosity and to impress on the minds of our fellow-citizens of different racial origin the conviction that we, of French ancestry, desire to associate with them in all that constitutes the national and social life of the United States.

Very respectfully yours,
THE CENTRALVILLE SOCIAL CLUB.
LEO A. KIROACK,
General Manager of Dance Committee.

PILES

Can't Be Cured From the Outside

External treatments seldom cure Piles. Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside: bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through the stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method.

J. S. Leonard, M. D., set at work some years ago to find a real internal Pile remedy. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It's easy to take, and can always be found at Green's Drug store, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer. FRENCH REPLY AN ACCEPTANCE

Cordially Accepts Collaboration of U. S. in Conference of Experts

To Study Germany's Capacity to Pay Reparations—Replies to British Note

PARIS, Nov. 2 (By the Associated Press).—France accepts with cordiality the contemplated collaboration of the United States in a conference of experts to study Germany's capacity to pay reparations. She demands, however, that it should be clearly understood that the proposed inquiry should bear solely on the "present" capacity of Germany and that it should respect all the rights held by the reparations commission under the treaty of Versailles.

This is the substance, it was learned today, of the reply which France has made to the British note of Oct. 31, asking her to join Italy, Belgium and Great Britain in a collective invitation to the United States to be represented at the proposed conference. The reply was handed to the British embassy yesterday. Its text was not made public.

SEC. WEEKS SAYS U. S. TWO TEACHERS KILLED

PREPARED FOR WAR

Stepped in Front of Train at Steubenville, Ohio, Crossing

STREUBENVILLE, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Miss Olive Irvin, 22, of Richmond, and Miss Helen Bernard, 29, of Fremont, both school teachers, were killed today. They stepped in front of the train at a crossing after a freight train had passed.

The citizens' army, the message said, is ready to defend the nation at any time, while the standing army is aiding in many peace time projects. Members of the citizen army, he said, are benefited by training in fundamental military tactics, training in citizenship and a great amount of healthy exercise.

He cited the sword of Joan of Arc, the cannon of Molly Pitcher and the ministrations of Florence Nightingale as typical examples of woman in her role as a defender, and congratulated the council on its work.

Discussions of education, public health and immigration are on today's program.

LOWELL MEN WILL ATTEND MANEUVERS

On the three days following Armistice Day, the city of Lowell will be an armed camp, filled to overflowing with soldiers of the regular army, national guard and reserve corps who are to take part in military maneuvers there on those days.

The maneuvers are to be carried on on a scale never before attempted outside of a military encampment. Airplanes, tanks, heavy artillery and machine guns will be used and one feature of the maneuvers will be the construction of a pontoon bridge across the Merrimack river under conditions resembling, as nearly as possible, actual warfare. The regular army will be represented by several regiments of infantry, engineers, cavalry and artillery and also by a squadron of airplanes of the latest type.

The affair was sponsored by Lt. John E. Drury of the 11th Engineers, O.R.C., which is commanded by Major Percy Wilson of Lowell, and he received the support of the chamber of commerce, the city government and several civic and military organizations.

Invitations have been sent to members of the Reserve the Middlesex County to attend in maneuvers and it is expected that a large party from Lowell will attend at least one day.

WHERE WILL SCOTCH COME FROM WHEN SCOTLAND GOES DRY? QUERIES BRITISH WRITER

JEFFERY L. FARROL

By MAURICE HENLE
N.E.A. Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Haig and Haig, well known Scotch team, will have retired from the bonny wee footlights in another generation. And Johnny Walker, also a Scotch comedian of no mean ability, once you get him started, will by that time be a candidate for the Old Men's Home.

That's the prediction brought to this country by Jeffery Farrol, famous English writer of romantic novels. Scotland, he thinks, stands a good chance of going dry. Maybe within a generation.

"America," says this novelist, "is pointing the way. As she is leading, so will the world follow. The prohibition act here in the United States, while probably too extreme, is but an indication of the way the wind of the world is blowing."

"The entire world will be dry some day. Sooner probably than either the American or English public thinks."

And Farrol is wondering where Scotch whisky will come from when Scotland goes dry. For he is no prohibitionist.

"Pussfoot Johnson is concentrating on Scotland," he says. "And I really believe Scotland will go dry before England. We English are a beer drinking people. But the Scotch—they will have their tea."

Whereupon he asked me to have a drink—of plain unadorned tea.

The drink moved to sober thought. Here was a man whose early life was one long succession of knockouts and bumps. Twenty-four years ago he came to New York to make good. He was about 21.

But he could not get much material published, and to earn money he painted scenery in the Astor theatre. At night he wrote. And it was over here that he finished what has proved his best seller, "The Broad Highway."

But he could not find a publisher, and finally in desperation he sent it back home to London. It was accepted and he went home, too.

And with the exception of the few days he was here to report the Dempsey-Carpenter fight for a London newspaper, he has remained in London.

"Let's talk about American girls for a while," his interviewer suggested.

"All right. What could we add to that subject?"

"How do they compare with English ones?"

"Well, your girls make fine pals, but the English girls make better wives. He wouldn't amplify that."

ELLIS ISLAND SWAMPED

10,000 Immigrants Brought in Under the November Quota

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Ellis Island was swamped today with 10,000 immigrants brought in under the November quota early today on eight trans-Atlantic liners. Government officials said the yearly quotas of several nations would be exhausted before the day was done.

"The entire world will be dry some day. Sooner probably than either the American or English public thinks."

And Farrol is wondering where Scotch whisky will come from when Scotland goes dry. For he is no prohibitionist.

COMBAT RUM RUNNING

Legal Objections Probable as Result of Arrangement Worked Out in London

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Although both the White House and the state department appear entirely satisfied with the practicability of the arrangement worked out in London to combat rum-running, there are indications that legal objections may be brought forward in other branches of the government and may play a prominent part in Seattle action when the proposed treaty comes up for ratification.

Department of justice officials have not yet passed formally on the legality of that portion of the plan which would extend to British ships the right to bring liquor stores into American waters, and there are some lawyers in that department who are inclined to doubt whether such a privilege could be legally given except by a constitutional amendment.

Secretary Hughes is known to have based his proposal so far as it affects ship liquor, on the theory that the law held by the supreme court to exclude alcoholic ship stores from American waters could be effectively amended by a treaty ratified by the senate. Recently this same view was expressed at the White House.

SPEEDING AUTO HITS POLE—ONE KILLED

LYNNFIELD, Nov. 1.—Morton B. Williams of Lynn was fatally injured and Florence Nichols of Swampscott was badly hurt, when Williams drove his automobile into a telephone pole on the Newburyport turnpike early today. Nichols and Raymond Corlies of Lynn, who escaped with cuts and bruises, said the car was going 60 miles an hour when it went off the road and struck the pole.

Williams died in the Lynn hospital later of internal injuries, and multiple fractures of one leg, one forearm and three ribs.

WASHINGTON MEMORIAL

Bishop Freeman Speaker at Laying of Cornerstone of Masonic Monument

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 1.—A plan for the nation's rededication to those principles of unselfish devotion to liberty and human brotherhood of which he called Washington the "great exemplar," was voiced by the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington, in delivering the principal oration at the laying of the cornerstone today of the George Washington National Masonic memorial. The bishop warned against influences which tend to create racial and religious hatreds within the nation and those which would alter the fundamental basis of its relations with other peoples.

"We are met here today," he said, "not so much to think of Washington the patriot, the soldier, the commander-in-chief and ultimately the president of the republic, as of Washington, the high exemplar of those splendid ideals for which this ancient order stands."

"More and more, we are realizing today that if our nation is to endure and occupy its just place of prestige and power among the nations of the world, it must stand squarely and without evasion or modification for those great principles for which the fathers of the nation stood during those pregnant and tremendously important days that marked the genesis and evolution of our form and system of government."

Among influences which have helped shape the destiny of the republic, Bishop Freeman said, none has had more far-reaching effect than that resulting from the principles for which "Free Masonry has ever stood, namely, the fatherhood of God, and brotherhood of man."

These, he said, "underlie and secure the whole fabric of our fraternity." In recalling the greatness of Washington's character, which so highly exemplified these principles of life, the speaker appealed for their "larger expression in this present critical age."

The bishop equally decried that form of individualism today which is so "selfishly insular" that it constitutes "a menace to our ideals and institutions" and those who "in their overweening desire to see us promote what they call an international spirit would have us forget the rock from whence we are hewn and the purpose for which we were born." America, he said, would always discharge its just obligations to the world but it must be "permitted to do so in accordance with those rudiments and practices that have grown out of our experience as a people."

Our unique and peculiar contribution as a fraternal order to the order and peace of the world," the speaker continued, "will be secured only in so far as we exemplify those fundamental principles for which we stand. Our methods are not characterized by force, nor do we extend our influence by any intrusive form of propaganda. Within the hallowed precincts of our lodge rooms where the spirit of a true brotherhood prevails, we observe with respect and reverence our ancient forms and usages, but, however, secretly we may observe our ceremonial, we stand before men in the open light of day unabashed and unashamed, with charity for all, and malice towards none."

"We will have no part with those who would create cleavage, divisions, or provoke strife and bitterness between any group or groups within our body corporate. We are loyal without qualification or evasion of any kind to American principles and ideals. We resist with every influence at our command those who would make a travesty of our laws or a mockery of our institutions. We share with Washington that love of country that counts not life dear unto itself. We believe that America is destined under God, to play its large and statesmanlike part in healing the wounds that today distract and retard the progress of the world."

DROWNED WHEN AUTO PLUNGED INTO RIVER

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 1.—Gerard M. Richmond, 47, an investment securities broker of this city, was found drowned, imprisoned in his overturned sedan in a branch of the Palmer river in Rehoboth, about five miles from here today. The machine, had left the road, crossed a steep deep, where it rested on the bottom 15 feet from the bank. Identity was learned from the registration number on the car, and a sealed letter in an overcoat on the river bank, addressed to his wife. Nothing could be learned as to his member in that locality. He was a member of the class of '97 Amherst and of M.I.T. He leaves a widow and three small children and was identified with several prominent clubs of this city.

SCOTCH AND IRISH FOLK FOR G. O. P. CONVENTION

ARRIVE ON TUSCANY

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 1.—Freighted with a cargo of humanity composed in the main of sturdy Scotch and Irish folk the Cunard-Anchor liner Tuscania, from Glasgow and London, crept up the harbor early today to the state pier, to discharge all except 70 of her 1385 passengers. The Scotch predominated, numbering 995, while there were 27 of Irish nationality. Anchored a short distance out, awaiting their turn at the pier, were the President Polk of the United States line, which arrived off the three-mile limit nearly a day ahead of the Tuscania and the North German Lloyd steamship Seydlitz with hundreds of other persons aboard.

The Polk was to have the next chance, it being expected the Tuscania would be able to make way for her this afternoon. It was understood the federal officials by the order in which the ships were booked for today. There was an unusually large number of children, the great majority of them being with mothers, who came over to join their husbands who emigrated in the spring from their homes and have prospered sufficiently to send pass-ko money for their families.

Until recently it had been accepted as almost a foregone conclusion that the convention would go to Chicago. Recent negotiations between national committee officials and Chicago hotelmen, however, are understood not to have yielded the results hoped for, with the result that Denver and Cleveland again have come to the front in discussion of a convention city.

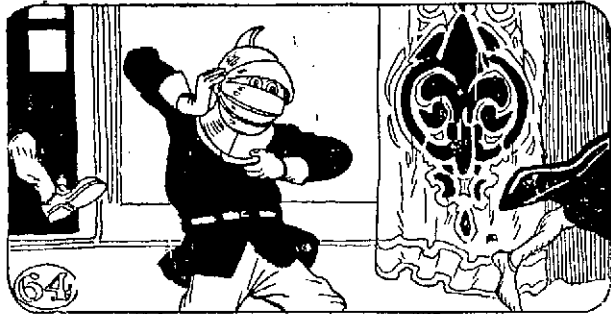

Chairman Adams said that in all four cities—Chicago, Cleveland, Denver and San Francisco—had indicated to the national committee that they would bid for the convention. "Either Cleveland or Denver, in my opinion, has a chance," he added. "Chicago has no chance of getting the convention unless it can assure that hotel rates charged delegates will be more reasonable than they were in 1920 and 1916."

He did not discuss the possibilities of San Francisco, but said in reply to further questions that the whole matter would be determined at the meeting of the republican national committee to be held in Washington December 11 and 12.

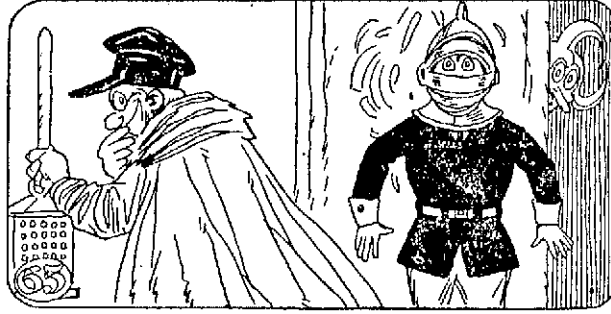

TAKEN FROM LIFE

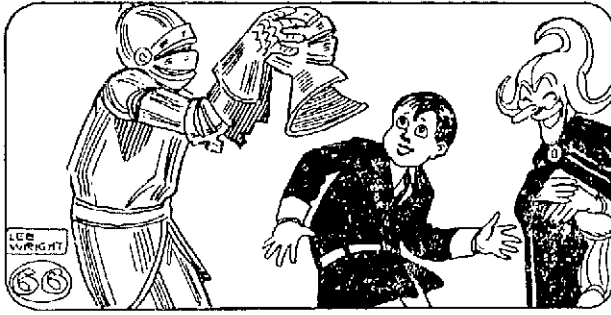

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 22

"Pull off that helmet, and hide," shouted Jingo. "I can't get it off," replied Jack, as he tugged away at the head-covering. "Well, then," continued Jingo, "just stand perfectly still and Clunker will think you are a knight." And just then Clunker came into the big room.

Jack remained perfectly still as the watchman walked up to him. Every minute the little adventurer expected the watchman to attempt to grab the helmet off his head. But, instead, Clunker just smiled and walked away. "Well, you fooled him," shouted Jingo as he came from behind a curtain.

Jack then turned his attention to getting the helmet off his head. "It's just stuck," he said, after a short time. "Well," replied Jingo, "Clunker Legs can remove it." And Clunker Legs came from his place and pulled the helmet apart with his great metal hands. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"Have you ever been to Dixie Land, children?" asked the Fairy Queen. "Dixie Land?" repeated Nancy and Nick eagerly. "Where is that?"

The Fairy Queen laughed. "You've never been there, dear, or you wouldn't ask that question. You would certainly remember, for Dixie Land is a fine big place. It's the whole south. Didn't you ever hear a song about:

"Away down south in the land of cotton,
Cinnamon fields and sandy bottom,
I'll away, I'll away, I'll away, I'll away."

"Yes, we have!" answered both twins together. "Is that Dixie Land?"

"Certainly!" said the Fairy Queen.

"Does cinnamon grow there?" Nick wanted to know. "Is that why they're called 'cinnamon fields'?"

"No!" The Fairy Queen shook her head. "They are called that because in many places the soil is a rich reddish brown; exactly the color of cinnamon. And in many places there is a lot of sand, especially along the rivers and river valleys. That's called sandy-bottom, and good for many things to grow in. You'll like Dixie Land because it's different in many ways from the places you have been in."

"Are we going with one of your fairy helpers?" asked Nancy.

"No, my dear. I'm sending you by yourselves. I want you to go around and visit all of my friends there, the birds and wood folk and water folk and see if they are happy. Let me know at once if there is anything they need. Wear those magic shoes and they will not only save you from danger but help you to travel quickly. A wish will take you any place you want to go. Here are the addresses of some of my friends."

And she handed Nick a paper with a long list of names on it.

"Some of them are hard to read," explained the Fairy Queen, when she saw Nick's puzzled look, "but you'll have no trouble making them out, for the magic shoes will help you to do many things that you could not do otherwise. What is the first place you are to go to?"

"This says 'Philander and Philomena Possum, Buttonwood Tree, Near-the-Creek, On-the-Old-Plantation,'" read the little boy.

"My, oh, my!" laughed the Fairy Queen kindly. "I wonder what she is doing. Possums are always in trouble and always up to mischief, but they have so many troubles of their own as they give to other people, I think. And they are the bravest little people I know. Well, you'd better be starting. Tell Philomena Possum not to eat too many persimmons and to watch out for 'coon dogs. Goodbye!"

"Goodbye!" cried Nancy and Nick as Nimble-Joes, the Fairy Queen's gookkeeper, bowed them out.

FALL DEMANDED HIS TRANSFER

Commander Stuart Makes
Charges Against Former
Secretary of Interior

Wanted Naval Officers Who
Objected to Oil Leases
Transferred

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Former Secretary Fall demanded the transfer from Washington of naval officers who objected to leases he proposed to make on naval oil reserves. Commander H. A. Stuart of the navy, testified today before the senate public lands committee, investigating the subject.

Commander Stuart, who testified he had been in charge of the naval reserves in the navy department from 1915 until April 5, 1922, said Secretary Fall had insisted that Secretary Fall should detach him and Commander Stuart and send them out of Washington. Commander Stuart, he explained, also was connected with the reserve section.

The witness said the demand was made after the two officers had been sent to Mr. Fall's office to answer to certain leases which he proposed to make to the United States reserve number one in California. During the period the navy department had complete control over the reserves nothing had developed, Commander Stuart asserted, which made it desirable in his judgment to transfer their administration to the interior department.

The navy, he said, in handling the reserves, had received all necessary assistance from the geological survey, and the bureau of land and was fully competent to administer them.

Stuart testified that he approved the transfer. Replying to an inquiry from Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, he said that although he had been in direct charge of the naval reserves for several years, he was not criticized by Secretary Denby concerning the desirability of such a course.

PARKER LECTURE COURSE

Lecture by Noted Egyptologist at Auditorium a Disappointment to Many

The first in this season's course of Parker lectures was given last night at the Auditorium by Mr. Arthur Weigall, noted Egyptologist, before a large audience. The lecturer presented some excellent views of the tombs of the Pharaohs, the Valley of the Kings, and other interesting spots in that locality, which were highly appreciated by those present. While the views were excellent the lecture was rather disappointing on account of the speaker's inability to make himself understood beyond the seats nearest the stage. He spoke in English, but it was what might be termed foreign English with which our people are not familiar. However, those who were able to hear the lecturer and to understand what he said, agree that his remarks were quite interesting and instructive.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Catherine Donnellon, daughter of Mrs. Jewell Donnellon of 12 Ames avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. James S. Lougee of Bridge street, Dracut Centre, Wednesday afternoon at St. Michael's rectory by Rev. August G. Madden. The bridesmaid was Miss Mae Donnellon, sister of the bride, and the best man was Mr. Wesley Lougee, brother of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home and a luncheon was served to many guests from Lowell and out of town. Late in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip by automobile and will be at home after Nov. 15 at Chaplain street, Dracut Centre.

OFFICER LISTON HURT

Liquor Squad Member Sustains Leg Injury During Prince Street Raid

The service of Officer William F. Liston, one of the most efficient members of the local liquor squad, will be indefinitely lost as the result of a broken bone in his right leg, near the ankle, sustained while pursuing an alleged liquor law violator in Prince street, last night. The injured member was treated by Dr. M. A. Tighe, who said he could not determine the exact nature of the affliction until an X-ray was taken. He thought, however, that a bone was broken or a ligament torn.

The mishap occurred as Officer Liston darted out the rear door of the Prince street tenement. He was a party to a raid conducted on the premises by Sgt. Winn, and Officers Cooney and Keegan, after they had witnessed the transaction of a sale of liquor.

Officer Cooney went to the front door of the house and apprehended one of the two men concerned in the sale. The other man managed to escape through a rear door and ran with all haste up Prince street, with Officer Liston giving chase. A short distance from the house, the officer tripped and fell, sustaining the injury which now confines him to his home.

In view of the fact that insufficient evidence of the alleged sale was available, no arrests were made.

ROBBED OF $11,260

Holyoke Man Held up by Two Men and Relieved of Big Roll

HOLYOKE, Nov. 2.—Police of a wide area were assisting the local authorities today in an effort to apprehend two men who late last night held up Alexander Horowitz of this city and at the point of pistols, relieved him of $11,260 and made their escape in an automobile. Horowitz told the police that as he was on his way home with the proceeds of a cash at a Springfield bank carrier in the day his automobile was passed by another machine, the driver of which signalled him to stop. As he did so, two men leaped from the other car and covered him with revolvers, searching his clothing, and finding the cash. The holdup occurred in an outlying part of the city.

DANCE HALL CASE IN SUPERIOR COURT

Further testimony for the defence in the case of Bechard, et als. vs. Morin.

Morin, growing out of the collapse of a dance hall on the Pawtucket boulevard, was offered before Judge Qua and jury in superior court today morning.

Witnesses were introduced whose testimony was in reference to the plans of the building. It is the contention of the defence that the plans for the building, although approved by the building inspector, did not conform to the building ordinances. There was also technical testimony regarding the construction of the building.

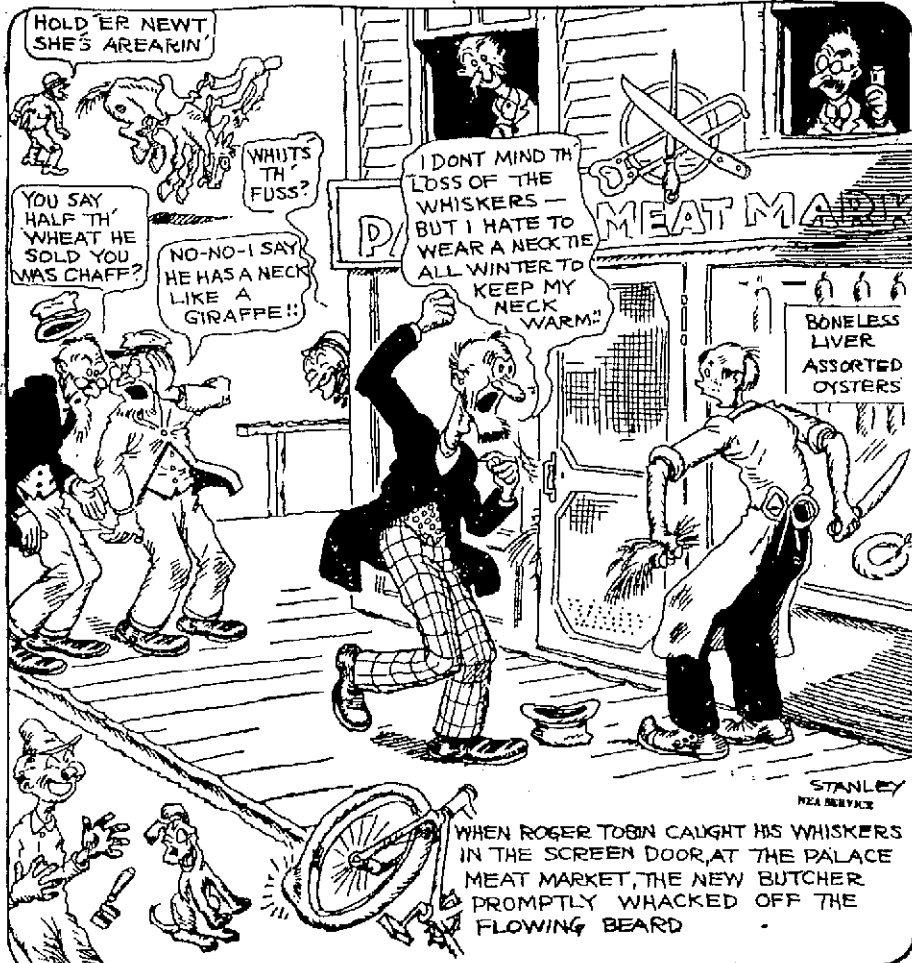

It is expected that evidence in the case, which has been a trial since last Monday, will be concluded this afternoon, but arguments will be deferred until Monday.

The action is one of contract, and damages $20,000. The plaintiffs claim that the building was not built of good material and further that the construction was faulty. The plaintiffs paid $11,000 for the construction of the building.

Attorney E. J. Tierney is counsel for the plaintiffs and Attorney Albert S. Howard for the defendant.

MRS STOKES NEVER HAD HAPPY DAY WITH STOKES

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Helen Stokes, wife of W. D. Stokes, resumed the witness stand today for cross-examination in the trial of her husband's suit for divorce. In answer to the first question asked her, she said she could not recall having spent one happy day with Stokes since her marriage. Mrs. Stokes questioned by Max D. Steuer, counsel for Stokes, continuously declared that she had never been at 13 East Thirty-fifth street, home of Edgar T. Wallace, named as correspondent.

"On the day you married, Mrs. Stokes, you regretted it," asked Mr. Steuer.

"I did," answered Mrs. Stokes.

"Did you ever have a happy day with him?"

"I cannot recollect that I did."

End of White Way Lighting

to Pawtucket streets, it will have reached its limits.

The city today is paying nearly $150,000 a year for street lighting which amount will be considerably increased next year with the addition of the system in Dutton at Gorham and Central sts.

As the need for new lighting comes in streets not included in the so-called downtown area, it is believed the public service board will incline toward the use of other types of lamps which would give adequate service at a much reduced cost. The Type B lamps being installed on Central bridge and along First street and the new boulevard are in every way satisfactory, yet cost considerably less than the White Way illumination.

It is believed, therefore, that with the two exceptions above noted, the board will not look with any favor upon petitions for White Way extensions in the future, due almost entirely to its excessive cost.

The city park department is at work next spring and summer.

5000 WOMEN MISSING IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Five thousand women and girls of all ages were reported missing in Los Angeles during the past year, according to Mrs. Georgia Robinson of the police juvenile bureau. Dissatisfaction with conditions at home was responsible for most of the disappearances, she said.

In preparation for rough grading, the department today began to plough up Ayer field in Pawtucketville which will be made into a modern play area.

BOY WAS BITTEN BY DOG

Motorcycle Officer Judge Shoots Dog That Attacked Shea Street Boy

A Boston bulldog belonging to Henry Guerin of 1002 Moody street was shot and killed by Motorcycle Officer Bernard J. Judge this morning after the dog had bitten a finger on the right hand of William Bechard, a boy living at 3 Shea street.

Shortly after 9 o'clock a telephone call was received at the police station, saying that a dog frothing at the mouth and assumed to be "mad," had bitten a little boy in Shea street, and was causing considerable anxiety among residents of the vicinity.

Members of the liquor squad were immediately dispatched to the scene of the trouble. Officer Alfred Kilroy espied the animal reposing on the doorstep of the Shea home. Approaching him cautiously, he removed his coat and attempted to wrap it around the canine. The dog escaped from his temporary captivity just as Motorcycle Officer Judge appeared. A merry chase up Shea st. ensued and when the officer got within firing distance, he discharged a couple of shots from his revolver. The bullets took effect, the animal dying almost immediately.

Young Bechard was taken to the Corporation hospital, where the injured finger was treated.

TO BROADCAST WILSON'S SPEECH

Address to Be Delivered at Home of Former President on Armistice Day

Arrangements Made to Broadcast by Radio to Every Part of Country

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Arrangements have been made to broadcast by radio the speech Woodrow Wilson will deliver at his S street home on armistice day, when a group of his admirers are to call on him to pay their respects.

The subject matter of his address has not been disclosed but some of those concerned with plans for the occasion believe the former president may discuss current public questions, including the international situation. Should their expectations be borne out, it would be Mr. Wilson's first extended effort to lay his views before the country since he left the White house.

The address will be delivered from the front steps of the Wilson home. A microphone placed nearby will carry the former president's voice over telephone wires to three of the most powerful broadcasting stations in the east, WCAP in Washington, WEAF in New York and WJAR in Providence. Radio experts say that with favorable atmospheric conditions wireless receiving sets in every part of the country will be able to pick up Mr. Wilson's words distinctly.

It is considered possible that through the radio arrangement, local armistice day gatherings in many places will listen to the address.

REVOLUTION COMING IN GERMANY AND THE SOONER IT COMES THE BETTER, SAYS SHIP OFFICER

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 2.—The opinion that a revolution is coming in Germany, and the sooner it comes the better, was expressed by Chief Steward C. Hoffman of the North German Lloyd steamship Seydlitz before her departure early today for New York, with 25 cabin passengers, after discharging 42 immigrants here. He found it difficult to find words to express his feelings of the situation in the fatherland, and was exceedingly pessimistic insofar as the present republican form of government is concerned. "It's no use," he said, "republic cannot succeed in Germany."

Just what will be the outcome of the revolution, if one develops—and it seems to be on the way, according to their way of thinking—neither Mr. Hoffman nor other officers of the Seydlitz who were interviewed, could forecast. They were certain of one thing, however, and that is that events are moving to a crisis.

The chief steward said he hoped the crisis would be reached before the long winter sets in. "It will serve to clear the atmosphere, anyway," he said. He got much more than money enough to pay for their meals. The situation is aggravated by the industrial slump in some sections, causing much idleness.

Deposed Evening School Teacher Brings Petition For Writ of Man- damus in the Supreme Court

Master of Morey Grammar School Seeks to Be Reinstated as Master of Greenhalge Evening Grammar School From Which He Was Ousted by School Committee—Action Names Mayor Donovan and All Members of the School Committee as Respondents

William W. Bennett, master of the Morey grammar school, has brought a petition for a writ of mandamus in the supreme court to compel the school committee to reinstate him as master of the Greenhalge evening grammar school, a position he occupied from the fall of 1916 until the fall of 1922, when the board elected in his stead, John H. Gillick.

The action names Mayor John J. Donovan, Thomas B. Delaney, James J. Bruin, J. Eugene Mullin, Mrs. Alice D. Pearson, Dr. Emma Y. Slaughter and James J. Riley, constituting the school committee, as defendants, service having been made upon each last night and today by Sheriff Martin Conway.

The writ is returnable on Tuesday, Nov. 6 at which time the defendants are notified to appear and show cause why the mandamus should not issue.

In his petition Mr. Bennett states that he served as master of the Greenhalge evening grammar school from 1916 until the fall of 1922 and contends that inasmuch as he had served three

Excessive Cost to City Will Prohibit Future Extensions, Say Experts

Merrimack Street and Paige Street Area Only Possible Exceptions Noted

With the exception of one or two extensions, possibly in Merrimack st. and in Paige street area, Lowell has gone about as far in the matter of ornamental White Way lighting as her pocketbook will permit.

This is the opinion of Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the board of public service, and City Engineer Stephen Kearney, both of whom say that while the White Way is a system of illumination that cannot be surpassed, it is altogether too costly for general use.

It is believed, therefore, that with the installation of this system in Paige, John and French streets and its extension in Merrimack street from Cabot

MRS. LYONS TESTIFIES

Says She Heard Corcoran Tell of Plans to Extort Money From One Person

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—A suggestion that Mrs. Mary Louise Lyons let herself be caught in compromising circumstances with a man was made to her by J. Warren Kane, co-defendant with William J. Corcoran and others on charges of bribery and extortion, Mrs. Lyons testified at the trial today.

Mrs. Lyons testified yesterday that when a stenographer at the General Drug company in 1919, she overheard Corcoran tell a group that included Kane and other defendants, that he was going to extort large sums of money from a certain person.

"One morning Mr. Kane came into my office," Mrs. Lyons said today, "and asked me if I would mind being found in a room with a man. He said there would not be any danger and they'd take care of me. I told him I would mind very much and wouldn't have anything to do with it."

John Steel at The Auditorium

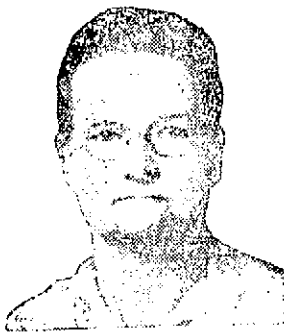

JOHN STEEL

John Steel, the American tenor who is to sing at the Auditorium on next Sunday afternoon and evening, has had a most interesting career. Although still in his twenties, he has a secure place in the musical life of America. Mr. Steel is of Irish and Scotch parentage and was born in Montclair, N. J. When only a child he showed remarkable talent for music and sang in the boys' choir of various New York and Brooklyn churches. At the age of 15 he left school and went to work in an office for $1 a week. He was anxious to be a success as a business man but as the days went on he received offers to sing in many churches and societies and soon began to make more money by singing than by his hard work all day in an office. This caused him to look more seriously toward a future as a singer. Soon he gave up all idea of business and began to study for concert. By singing in churches and concerts he made enough money to pay for his lessons in music and languages. When the United States declared war against Germany, he ceased studying and went overseas for a year to sing for the soldiers of the American Expeditionary Forces. On returning to America he received his first offer to sing in a musical production, "The Maid of the Mountains," which played at the Casino Theatre, New York. After the first performance John Steel was "made." He was an overnight success. The biggest theatrical men in New York immediately sought his services, one of whom was Florence Ziegfeld, whose offer was so tempting that Steel finally signed with him to appear with the Follies of 1919 and 1920. Before finishing his contract with Ziegfeld he was offered a large increase in salary to continue with the Follies. He refused same, as he desired to make four tours through the states in concert work. The Victor Phonograph company also made an alluring offer to him to make records, and today his records are among the best sellers in the large catalogue. He is at present under contract with Sam Harris of New York, and is appearing nightly at the Music Box Theatre in the latest edition of the Music Box Revue. Permission was granted him to accept next Sunday's engagements at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium. He has selected a number of the old and new songs for this occasion. To those who have never heard this artist, excepting in his record work, a treat is in store. Another excellent feature on this bill is Lieut. John M. Lee's All-Star U. S. Concert Band. This organization consists of 50 picked musicians. Their repertoire includes everything from classic to jazz. There is no doubt the most critical will be well pleased. The three Zimmer sisters are harpists of more than ordinary ability, who play exceptionally well together. They are expected to add greatly to the strength of a fine bill. The prices, with all seats reserved at a price scale of from 25 cents to $1, are proving popular. Tickets are now obtainable at Prince's Hungry Shop, 108 North Main street. The box office at the Auditorium will open at noon on Sunday.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

An enjoyable Halloween party was given last evening, by Miss Evelyn Murray of 10 Alder street. The house was decorated in black and orange with fantastic decorations hung from the ceiling. The party was the ever-popular costume kind. Prizes were distributed and games played. Piano solos were given by Miss Evelyn Murray, Evelyn Murray, Edith Cady and Master Edwin Perkins. The party broke up at a reasonable hour, the gathering joining in the chorus of "The Star Spangled Banner."

DO YOU SUFFER?

BACKACHE OR PAIN OVER KIDNEYS?

Wonderful Relief Is Here Told.

Utica, N. Y.—"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets for kidneys and backache. I have never known a medicine that would give such quick relief. For some time past I had been suffering with kidney disorder, my back would be lame through the region of the kidneys and I also suffered with rheumatism and stiffness of the joints. Just recently I learned of Ankle and began its use. I have only taken it a very short time but have derived wonderful relief. My kidneys have become active and seemingly in a normal state and I do not suffer with backache and stiffness of the joints. To those who suffer as I did I would suggest Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets. Mrs. H. A. Taylor, 303 Knox street."

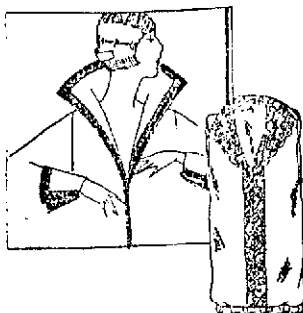

This anti-rheumatic remedy of Dr. Pierce's for backache and kidneys (called "Ankle-tablets") is new, but it can be had at your neighborhood drug store, or send 10c for trial package to Dr. Pierce, Inventor, 1031 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

RED TRIANGLE VILLAGE

Y. M. C. A. Dormitory Men Have Little Municipality of Their Own in Lowell

Band, McFally and other mapmakers, geometer, and such like haven't made a survey yet of Red Triangle Village here in Lowell and perhaps don't know that such a village exists. Nevertheless, it is a healthy "municipality" of nearly 100 male voting residents, has its own mayor, council, clerk and other officers. It is composed of the men who make their homes in the Y.M.C.A. dormitories here in Lowell. Every Wednesday evening a supper is served them in the "Y" building and they have their weekly get-together dinner, provided over by the mayor. This year the mayor is Archibald D. Grant, assistant townmaster at the Boott mill, who was formally inaugurated last Wednesday night. Red Triangle Village here was

LAY CORNERSTONE OF WASHINGTON MEMORIAL

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 2.—True, trusty and well laid," as the ritual goes, the cornerstones of the George Washington National Masonic memorial, reposing on mortar spread by the nation's highest officials and the grand masters of every Masonic jurisdiction in the country, was in place today to receive and bear into the ages its mighty burden of granite.

Two hundred feet above the crest of Shooter's hill, commanding a perpetual view of the vast estate he once owned and the capital of the republic he helped make possible, the great memorial will rise in columned dignity to attest the reverence of the Free Masons of America for their fellow craftsman, George Washington. Beneath its eye, too, will lie the granite old town of Alexandria, where the first president presided over Masonic meetings.

With solemn ritual and in the presence of one of the largest gatherings of Blue Lodge Masons in history, the stone was laid yesterday over mortar spread by President Coolidge with the trowel his illustrious predecessor used in laying the cornerstones of the first national capitol and the first Masonic temple erected here. Chief Justice Taft following the president, used the same treasured relic and it was then put away to await its final resting place in the completed memorial.

BALDWIN TO SPEAK AT MANCHESTER, ENG.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Prime Minister Baldwin is due this noon at Manchester, where he is to make two speeches. Protectionists are enjoying the irony in the situation arising from the fact that the premier's evening speech, which will probably be the more important and in which it has been expected he will unfold more than hitherto the tariff proposals, will be delivered in the building known as "Free Trade hall."

The expectation that Mr. Baldwin will enter with a detailed discussion of his protectionism scheme, has weakened in the last few days and the political writers in the morning press tell their readers not to look for much elaboration of the statements the prime minister made at Plymouth and at Swansea. It is understood that he is still sounding opinion in the constituencies throughout the various conservative associations and that he is not yet sure how far he may rely on the support of all his cabinet colleagues.

Attorney Eaton of Hamilton, Eaton & Blackmore of Boston, counsel for the two children, outlined the allegations of the two children that their father had always been of sub-normal mind, and counsel for the will and the beneficiary argued that evidence should be presented to substantiate these claims. This was opposed by Attorney Eaton, who stated that his presentation to the court was the substance of what his witnesses would testify.

The court finally decided, however,

Says Bluenose Will Not Race

positively that he would not race tomorrow.

"I'm going home; the Bluenose has won and I'll do no more racing this year," Captain Walters said. "I'm going home just as sure as the sun is going to rise in the east tomorrow."

The international committee ruled that the Bluenose had forfeited yesterday's race, which it had won by a margin of two and three-quarters minutes by sailing to the landward instead of seaward of a shallow water buoy. The rule had been promulgated at the conclusion of the first race when Captain Ben Plue of the Columbia, protested he had been fouled by the Bluenose when the Canadian crowded the American in dangerous waters.

Aboard the Bluenose throughout the morning, the crew was busily engaged in preparing to put to sea. A few blocks away the perturbed members of the international committee were trying to settle the matter.

Captain Walters' deal recalls the similar declaration last year by Captain Clayton Morrissey of the Gloucester schooner Henry Ford, 1922 challenger, who expressed the same sentiments under similar circumstances, to later regret.

ST. JOSEPH'S SCHOOL
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

At a general meeting of the entire members of the St. Joseph's School Alumni Association, which was held in the school hall last evening, final plans were made for the banquet to be given in the main hall of the college on Sunday next at 8 o'clock. The various committees submitted interesting reports which, if taken as a forerunner of the success of the coming event, speak favorably for the largest reunion ever held by the association.

President Arthur Giroux called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. After the regular routine business was disposed of, reports were submitted by the various committees. Adolph Lequid, chairman of the reception committee, reported that all plans of sewing and other necessary details had been made for the best possible seating arrangements in the hall. John R. Richards reported that general arrangements for the banquet were completed and that it now remained to give the definite number of tickets to the caterer. A total of the tickets purchased at the present time indicated that well over 200 would attend the banquet.

Rev. Lucien Brassard, O.M.I., chairman of the invitation committee, announced that he had been successful in his task and that as a result the association will be honored by the presence of local pastors as well as several Marxist Brothers of Lawrence, Haverhill and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

An interesting program of addresses by several of the invited guests has been drawn up along with a series of concerts. The Massachusetts orchestra will furnish music during the banquet.

Several copies of the new constitution as recently revised were distributed among the members, the credit being due to a committee headed by Victor J. Alexander, assisted by Rev. Duclon Brassard, O.M.I., Arthur Giroux and Joseph Montminy.

Provisional plans were also made for the celebration of a solemn high mass to be sung at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock on Thanksgiving morning in commemoration of the deceased members of the association.

During the course of the session the members were addressed by A. St. Hilaire, Arthur Gaudette, J. P. Montminy and others.

AT ASSOCIATE HALL
Associate hall tomorrow night will be the scene of the usual battle of wit between "Mal" Hallett, famous Broadway syndicator, and Minnie Boyce's troupe of artists. Latest dance music between "Mal" Hallett's famous will be featured, while both teams promise new novelties. The dancing surface cannot be improved upon and is one of the best halls in New England. Popular prices prevail for this event and it is well worth the price of admission to witness "Mal" Hallett in action.

REGISTRATION FOR PRIMARIES
The biggest registration of the year occurred yesterday when the election commissioners added 40 new names to the voter lists. By wards the registration was as follows: Ward 1, four; ward 2, nine; ward 3, eight; ward 4, four; ward 5, seven; ward 6, twelve; ward 7, fourteen; ward 8, five; ward 9, six. Registration sessions will continue today until 4 p. m. and this evening from 7 until 9 o'clock.

At the F. E. Nelson Company store, Central street, this week a most interesting demonstration of the famous Vanity Fair Toilet articles is being given. The young lady in charge, Miss Loreta Baker, has been with the Vanity Fair people over six years. In excellent person, possessing a most pleasing personality, Miss Baker is introducing to Lowell people Vanity Fair powders, day cream, night cream, cold cream, face powders, rouge, facial soap, brilliantine and toilet waters and perfumes. Samples are distributed to interested ones and the ladies of Lowell are invited by the Nelson Company to visit their store tomorrow to witness the demonstration.

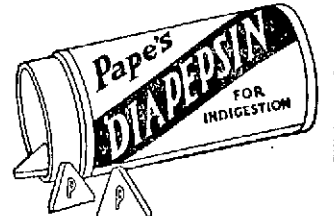

MERRIMACK SQUARE
On a level with Stevenson's immortal conception of the struggle for supremacy between a man's good and bad natures, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is James Kirkwood's performance in "Human Wreckage" depicting the tremendous combat of a man's will power with a body that craves for relief through submission to the curse of the drugs. "Human Wreckage" is the famous photoplay produced by Mrs. Wallace Reid, following her husband's death, and is being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow. It's one of the blakest pictures of the year and should be seen by every photoplay lover. The usual excellent surrounding program is being shown.

LOWELL H.C. CLUB
The first meeting of the fall season of the Lowell Boston University club will be held tonight in Middlesex hall, Middle street, and present students of Boston university as well as former students are invited to attend. OPENING OF FALL
SOCIAL SEASON

The full social season of the Lowell Knights of Columbus witnessed a favorable opening last evening with a smoker, a program of entertainment, and an interesting discourse on the World series by Empire "Boh" Hart. The latter gave an interesting talk on his experiences as an arbiter during the Yank-Giant series and held the attention of the members for almost an hour. He was given a hearty ovation by the gathering.

The entertainment consisted of solos by Andrew A. McCarthy, Charles Burns, John W. Kelly, Daniel Brennan, George Sullivan and John Baxter. Brief addresses were made by William P. Thornton and Lecturer Edward P. Slattery, Jr.

It was a happy occasion and reflected great credit on the lecturer of the council, Mr. Edward P. Slattery, Jr.

Announcement was made that the K. of C. bowling league will get under way next Monday night. Twelve teams are entered and interest is at a high pitch. The schedule for next week is as follows:

Monday, Nov. 5—Team 1 vs. Team 3,
Team 5 vs. Team 4.

Tuesday, Nov. 6—Team 5 vs. Team 7,
Team 6 vs. Team 8.

Friday, Nov. 9—Team 9 vs. Team 10,
Team 11 vs. Team 12.

CONCERT IN BILLERICA

At the Billerica town hall last night a large audience was entertained with a well-balanced and artistically rendered musical program by a group of artists of the Boston Symphony orchestra.

The following artists appeared: Julius Theodorowicz, first violin; M. Alquielle, cello; Gustav Gerhardt, bass violin; Louis Speyer, oboe; George Laurent, flute; Herbert Klingwell, piano; and Daniel Kuntz, conductor.

BOY SCOUT WORKERS REPORT PROGRESS

The team workers in the Boy Scout drive met last night to give reports on the progress made in soliciting funds for the work of the coming year. The total contributions for yesterday were $1015.50, and the amount to date is $2167.50. Exclusive of this amount is the promise that has been obtained from different citizens to give $250 each if nine other promises of like amount were obtained. The special gifts committee will work unceasingly in the remaining days of the campaign to obtain the four pledges necessary to realize on all of these promises.

The meeting last night was presided over by Dr. John H. Lambert, who expressed his pleasure at the favorable returns being shown, and incited the workers to do their best work between now and the next meeting, which will be held Saturday noon.

The first of a series of lectures and practical demonstrations to be held at the Lowell high school on Friday evenings, for the instruction of scoutmasters and all others interested in boys or boys' work, will open tonight at 7:15 o'clock. Experienced instructors will be in charge of these sessions and the work covered will be grouped under seven heads, as follows: The Boy Scout Movement, Scout Troop, Patrol Unit, Scout Advancement, Hikes, Camps and Rallies and Demonstrations and Practice of Outdoor Scouting. There is no charge made for this course and it is open to anyone desiring to enroll.

GROTTO OF LAS PALDAS

Explorations Have Brought to Light Some Important
Paleontological Relics

TETUAN, Spanish Morocco, Nov. 2.—Explorations which have been in progress for some time in the grotto of Las Paldas, in the vicinity of Cab. Negro, have brought to light some important paleontological relics. The grotto was found to be filled with prehistoric paintings, while the signs of habitation of wild animals such as the fox and bear were frequently seen in stalagmites. Great quantities of silver instruments and weapons were discovered, their handles engraved roughly with geometrical signs. Among them are arrows, javelins, lances, hammers and engraving tools. The paintings are colored black and red, representing in one instance a stag 22 meters in length, and in another a human head with strongly marked lines and a prominent forehead. In the further end of the grotto a heavy wall had been constructed, dividing the rest of the grotto from the entrance, and behind the wall extended four galleries filled with paintings, some of them representing horses, bulls, chamois and stags. Fossil remains of animals were discovered in abundance.

BIG RAINFALL FOR MONTH OF OCTOBER

The rainfall for the month of October 1923, as compiled at the office of the Locks and Canals on Broadway, was a precipitation of 4.458 inches as compared with 2.758 inches during the same period in 1922. The average rainfall for the month of October over a period of 59 years has been 3.42 inches, and this is exceeded by slightly more than one inch this year. Last month was the first in five months to exceed the mean precipitation, but the accumulation for the current year is only 32.553 inches which leaves only two months for the mean figure of 44.55 inches yearly to be attained. The storm of the month past with their rainfall are as follows: Oct. 15, .503 in.; Oct. 18, .513 in.; Oct. 19, .167 in.; Oct. 20, .274 in.; and Oct. 20, .431 in.

EMPLOYMENT
SHOWS INCREASE

The employment report for October 31st, compiled by the chamber of commerce from 12 representative Lowell industries, shows an increase of 87 over the report of September 30. The textile industries showed an increase of 269 employees while the other industries show a decrease of 182. The total number employed in the 12 industries on Oct. 31 was 12,514 compared to 12,429 on Sept. 30th. On Oct. 31 last year there were 12,598 in the same twelve industries and in 1921 the total number employed was 12,322. Last year one of the industries listed among the 12 employed 319 and since that time it has moved to the south and the number employed in its building here at the present time is but a few.

The report does not state how many of those reported working Oct. 31 were working on a three-day schedule but it is known that several of the industries reporting are on such a working schedule.

TWO SESSIONS HERE OF
PROBATE COURT TODAY

Two sessions of probate court were held in the Gorham street court house this morning. Judge John C. Leggat presided over a sitting for uncontested cases and Judge A. P. White of Salem heard several contested cases.

The first case called before Judge White was a hearing in the matter of the will of the late Phoebe Trider of Lowell, by the terms of which the estate, valued at about $4000, was left to Mrs. Joseph Barnard of Lowell. The will was contested by Osborne Winter of Swampscott, a nephew of the testator, on the ground that undue influence was used on the part of Mrs. Barnard. The contestant also claimed certain moneys were owed him which he had advanced to the testator. When the evidence was submitted, Attorney Melvin H. Rogers, counsel for Winter, withdrew objection to the probating of the will on an agreement that the executrix Mrs. Barnard, furnish a bond.

A civil suit against the estate will now be entered by Mr. Winter to recover moneys which he claimed he advanced to his aunt.

Uncontested Cases
Two uncontested divorce cases were heard before Judge Leggat. Violet W. Hunt of Lowell, was granted a decree from Guy C. Hunt on the ground of cruel and abusive treatment. She was also allowed alimony of $15 per week and was given custody of a minor child.

A decree for desertion and non-support was granted Laura Traville of Lowell vs. Wilfred Traville.

Men as mechanics for the air service in the Hawaiian Islands.

The air service offers to recruit the greatest opportunity in the army. Men are trained in government schools by officers who are experts in gasoline engine and airplane construction and, after an enlistment in this service, are eligible to demand highly paid positions because of the training and experience given them while in the service.

Service in the Hawaiian Islands also adds to the attraction. Hawaii is noted for its climate, which is never too hot and never too cold, and men who dread the approach of the New England winter will do well to see Sergt. Kimball and sign up for Hawaiian service.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST FIRES SUCCESSFUL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—A comparatively favorable season has been experienced in the campaign against fires on national forests although destructive fires occurred in Minnesota and Southern California, W. B. Greeley, chief forester, announces.

"Fires thus far for 1923, have been fewer and much less destructive than for several years," he says. "Weather conditions have been more favorable than usual and further, I believe the public has become aware to a greater extent than ever before of the terrible menace of man-caused forest fires and has been more careful."

B. & M. LOOKING FOR MORE BUSINESS IN MAINE—FREIGHT SHIPMENTS INTO LOWELL

Information has been received at local headquarters of the Boston & Maine railroad company that a new branch office is to be established in Portland for solicitation of business among Maine shippers and to otherwise look after the railroad's interests in that important territory.

Portland shippers regard this action of the Boston & Maine as an outcome of the controversy now going on in Maine regarding the proposed railroad merger, and indicative of the Boston & Maine's intention to increase freight business over the Worcester, Nashua & Portland division, which the company at the recent hearing in Augusta was accused of permitting to remain practically idle, so far as freight shipments are concerned. It is this branch line which the McDonald plan of merger would use as a connecting link between the consolidated Maine roads and the New York Central.

Roundhouse Chatter

Freight shipments into Lowell during the past two weeks have shown a slight falling off, according to local car-jerkers in the railroad yards. Not a heavy falling off at all, but a perceptible let-up from the mid-season freight jams and day and night battles straightening out the extras and regulars and finding way for the regular passenger service from the seething yards without serious delays.

The textile mill freight "runs" appear to be fairly crowded with box cars daily, but not all of these contain mill supplies. A big string of "empties" was lined up yesterday morning for north and western destinations—back home to the home lines in the regular order. Fewer cars of competing lines are side-tracked and forgotten nowadays owing to the new agreements made by the chief rail organizations to endeavor to return all empty cars in the quickest possible time by shortest routes.

Official car checkers on incoming freight consignments, say cotton shipments to Lowell in October were unusually small—the smallest ever. In fact, for the month of our cookies, sweet cider and tax bills. About 30 cars of raw cotton came into the various mill yards last week. Yesterday's arrival on the Merrimack spurs were six, checking in before 10 a. m.

Numerous cars of mill material came in Monday, including shipments of machinery for the Saco-Lowell shops.

B. & M. freight handlers say that the largest shipment of cotton into Lowell recently was consigned to the Appleton company. That was only a few weeks ago. Since then cars of cotton, in "ones" and "threes" (car lots) have been shuttled onto the mill siding of the Hamilton and Boott. The Massachusetts mills are not ordering large supplies, according to the car arrivals on the "M" steel spurs. Spot cotton buying is still the rule.

Four new locomotives of the grass-hopper type hustled through Lowell yesterday on their way north. These are to be snowfighters in Arctic climes above the Canadian line this winter. The engineer has a compartment like a pullman car reservation and the fireman could camp out all winter on his side of the partitioned engine cab. Two of the locomotives were of the Baldwin and the others American "Loco" type. One of them might be used on that popular "Lowell local" to ye Hub, which is tardy more or less as usual and cold weather on the way to make things worse.

TEAPOTS

Teapots and coffeepots require careful cleansing daily. The leaves or grounds should be removed and the vessel rinsed in cold water, then rinsed with clear hot water. Then they should be scalded, wiped dry and placed where they may air thoroughly.

RENDERED FAT

Save all fats from beef, veal, pork and chickens as this may be used in cooking. It should be rendered and strained through cheesecloth and may be used in place of butter in many instances.

BOSTON IS BECOMING BIG COFFEE CENTRE

The development of Boston as a port for the importation of green coffee beans has been due in large measure to the activities of the Holland Far East Tea, Coffee and Cocoa company, according to Ernest W. Bechard, local representative for the Holland products.

In speaking of Boston's great rise as a coffee centre, Mr. Bechard says: "When Daniel E. Holland and his brother organized the company they realized that Boston was the logical port for the importation of green coffee beans. At that time practically all the coffee consumed in this section was imported at New York and trans-shipped here, the Boston roasters and packers paying a freight rate from New York almost equal to the ship freight from South America to New York.

"Various trade organizations were interested in the conditions and as a result a great change has taken place, saving New Englanders tens of thousands of dollars on their coffee bills. 'From 1895 to 1920,' continues Mr. Bechard, 'less than 25,000,000 pounds of green coffee entered the port of Boston. In 1921 the tonnage was the largest ever—82,420,042 pounds. This was nearly 35 times the annual average for the 25-year period previously mentioned. The current year promises to surpass the 1921 record, and there now seems little doubt that Boston will again become the prime port for coffee importation as it was in 1870.'

Seventeen thousand stores in New England now handle Far East goods, according to Mr. Bechard. In this connection, he says: "The reputation of the Holland brothers—Daniel E. and John F.—has been such for the past 20 years in Boston that it has been of tremendous benefit in establishing good will for the company. The Holland Dutch May trade mark has always stood for quality. 'From the time Holland's Far East Tea, Coffee and Cocoa first went before the public—in 1829—the Holland brothers have shown merchants everywhere some exceedingly good work in merchandising. ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from your druggist a few ounces of Burdock Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Burdock Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

HIRAM JOHNSON MAKES ATTACK

Sees in Lloyd George's Visit
"a Bold Plan" to Drag
U. S. Into European Affairs

Declares U. S. Will Be Neither
Policeman Nor Collector
Abroad

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 2.—Hiram Johnson sees in Lloyd George's visit to this country, "a bold plan" to convince the people of the United States "by cleverness and shrewdness of wit" that their moral obligation is to help Europe collect its debts from Germany, the senior California senator declared in an address here yesterday.

"I deny we will do anything of the sort," he said. "The United States, despite the blandishments of European statesmen or the mawkish appeals of any of her own, will be neither policeman nor collector abroad. America will answer the anguished cry of human suffering abroad with contributions of money and food, but the nation should stand solidly against participation in Europe's political affairs."

Senator Johnson declared the former premier of Great Britain has made it "perfectly clear" that if Germany refuses to pay, America will be expected to "march with the Allies to deal with her recalcitrance." He accused London of having awaited the "psychological moment" to make public the correspondence between Secretary of State Hughes and "My Lord" Curzon, relative to America's participation in German reparations negotiations.

ROOSEVELT, VICTOR IN MAIDEN DEBATE

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The circumstances of the forensic victory of Theodore Roosevelt when as a 22-year-old first term in the New York assembly, he carried the day in a public debate before the aristocratic Nineteenth Century club in New York city against one of the most famous publicists of the day, were revealed last night by the former president's sister, Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson.

Speaking before the Woman's Roosevelt Republican club here, Mrs. Robinson told of the attempt of a great New York editor to bait the "young Roosevelt reformer" of the assembly by engaging him in a club debate against a famous publisher, renowned for his argumentative bent.

Invited to select his own theme, the young assemblyman launched enthusiastically upon an exposition of "Americanism," which he defined as "unshaken activity for the national welfare."

Point applause was accorded the youth's arguments, and as the famous editor rose to begin his 15-minute rebuttal to Roosevelt's half-hour argument, the laurels rested with the opposition.

Americanism, the rebuttal set forth, was only one of a thousand "isms"—all of them the creations and fads of zealous after-dinner speakers. Indeed, Americanism was a topic hardly worthy of debate "in these circles."

"I watched my brother with some misgiving as his vigorous appeal was effectively torn to shreds by the dignified address of the great editor," Mrs. Robinson said. "Then in an instant, his face lighted, and I saw the faint marks of a smile which later we learned to hail as the mark of victory."

Rising amid the enveloping applause for his opponent, young Roosevelt

earnestness, "my distinguished opponent has condemned 'isms' most ably. I am granted five minutes to reply. I shall not consume that time. I shall not request a full minute. 'Gentlemen—I commend to your thoughtful consideration but a single word—patriotism.'"

A thunder of applause greeted the reply, and thus, with Americanism—the theme of his first and last public address to America—was Roosevelt acclaimed victor in his maiden public debate.

"That was when I was 16," Mrs. Robinson concluded.

ried men are greatly in the minority at the "Y" dorms and generally stay but a short time—long enough to get located, arrange to have their furniture sent here, and so on, before setting up housekeeping. The married population is pretty much of the "shifting" nature while the young men seem to hold on pretty long before leaving the association's dorms.

Friends of Mayor Grant delight in twitting him over the records of his three predecessors. All came to the "Y" as single men; served a term as mayor, then married some fair Lowell bit of femininity and started housekeeping. His friends all assert a third room floor, according to the stars and to precedent, should be vacant about this time in 1924. Archie, of course, is non-committal.

The population of the village, by floors, gives 18 men as residents of the second floor, 38 on the third floor and 80 on the top floor. The majority are in some way connected with the mills or manufacturing industries here, although all walks of life from laborer to lawyer are represented. Clerks are in the majority. Many states and foreign countries have their sons on the "tax lists" of Red Triangle Village, but Massachusetts men of course are greatly in the majority.

At present there are only a half dozen or so of Textile school students at the "Y." In former years this number was generally much greater but of late the students have shown a preference of clubbing together and hiring bachelor flats or of living in the fraternity houses nearer the school.

Sixty-nine of the residents today at the village are Massachusetts men. One lone New Yorker graces the register. Vermont has the son in the village. The old Granite state is represented by six men. Seven sons of Canada live there, while two men have listed their permanent residences, the place they call home, as England.

From the Nutmeg and the Keystone states there is one lone representative each. Sweden, France, Ohio, Maine, North Carolina and Oklahoma, each also have one son in the village.

With probably 15 "clerks," which include several varieties of "white collar workers" from ribbon clerks to assistants to executives, the list of occupations is a long and interesting one.

Four list themselves as millhands, while among the "textile students" are several who are learning the business the practical way. One chauffeur, one cost accountant, two receiving clerks and a blacksmith are also listed.

There are two advertising writers, two reporters, two writers, six salesmen, one shoemaker, two auto mechanics and one sheet metal worker listed. Also there is one carpenter and by chance a carpenter's helper. Six salesmen, two physical instructors, one textile school professor and one business school instructor also grace the lists.

One laborer, one shoe cutter, two printers, one bookkeeper, one "fountain manager," one dyer, two draftsmen, three chemists, one laboratory man, and one secretary are found in the card index on Secretary Barchard's desk.

One assistant textile superintendent and one floorwalker are listed. A baker, a janitor, a machinery equipment man, several machinery erectors, two steamfitters, four engineers, one assistant engineer, and one master mechanic about complete an interesting list.

B. & M. Looking For More Business Continued

Just starting his 48th year as a railroad man on the old New Haven. The yard know him well. He has run for years on the Framingham line and still holds the ticket punch on that one-track road that never shows its age, at least between Lowell and Acton. Boyle

has been punching pasteboards so long that he looks younger every day. He is a native of Lowell—one of the survivors of the old original Bleachery district in the South End. The Boyle family still occupies the old-fashioned mansion that stands royally at 110 Congress street, set apart from its neighbors and peacefully guarding all the Boyle on their journey to the end of the line. It is a tradition with "Jim" Boyle that he can rest better in that ancient homestead than anywhere else on top of the earth, for the old gang of baseball champions who used to battle on the rough diamond just back of the Boyle home just about where the former C. I. Hood medicine manufacturing plant stands, no longer play the national game with the enthusiasm that sent half a dozen champions into the baseball halls of fame. Boyle was one of the crack first basemen and an active fielder, too, but memories won't bring those happy days back to the old Bleachery section that has changed with the years.

Engineer Whittier of the Boston-Framingham division of the New Haven, moved on Monday last from his former home in Mansfield to this city, where he has lived before. The change in the New Haven service to southern points, now in force, made it necessary for Whittier to change his place of residence or give up his job. Formerly he ran two trains a day—the incoming morning passenger train from Mansfield to Lowell and the outgoing night train back to Mansfield to connect with rail service taking Lowellites to the Fall River boats for New York. Radical changes now conserve money and lighten the transportation pay-rolls. Engineer Whittier and Conductor "Jim" Boyle with one brakeman, now handle a so-called "shuttle service" between Lowell and Framingham, running four trains a day back and forth.

Formerly running through from Lowell to Mansfield, the morning outward bound goes only as far as Framingham, where passengers for New York have to change for Mansfield and then change again for the remainder of the journey. Whittier and Boyle, running the "shuttle," immediately make the return trip to Lowell, arriving at 5:55 a. m., providing those four eternally present Chelmsford cows don't travel too far on the railroad tracks on their way to the back pasture. The same crew try to leave Lowell for Framingham at 5:03 each night and return from that town to Lowell, leaving at 5:30 and rumbling into the Middlesex street station promptly at 7:30 if all goes well along the way and the south freight yards are open wide enough to squeeze through. Only two cars constitute the little Framingham "scooter" now. They are old-timers, but still serviceable and friend Whittier gets all the steam possible out of old 6013, and sometimes a little bit more, even with the 13 in it.

The private cars were named by the Sistine singers, who occupied the latest in Pullman design and accessories. The cars are lighted by electricity and heated by the storage current when necessary. The sleeping service is much more satisfactory than is found in some of the old-style Pullmans. Railroadmen got the gold letters "Penelope" all right the first thing, but "Penelope" caused several of the curious inspectors to stutter a bit before the laymen.

HELD HALLOWEEN COSTUME PARTY

A very enjoyable Halloween costume party was held by the pupil nurses of St. John's hospital, Wednesday evening, Oct. 31, at the Nurses' home.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

COMEDY PRESENTED BY SCHOOL ALUMNI

St. Peter's School alumni at their annual reunion held recently in the school hall, presented a very laughable comedy in three acts, entitled "The Time of His Life." From the rise of the curtain until its final drop in the last act, laughter reigned supreme. Mrs. Rob Grey, as the hostess, Mrs. Catherine Carney, is seriously embarrassed, owing to the absence of her colored servant, Uncle Tom, in entertaining at dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wycombe, Mr. Wycombe is a pronounced pessimist, whose regard for his own health can only be measured by the number of nostrils he carries with him for the prevention of sickness. Miss Vera Shannon as Mrs. Wycombe, and Elias Mealy as the irascible Peter, displayed an ability rarely found in amateur circles. When, Noland as Tom Carter, Mrs. Grey's brother, proved his versatility. Dorothy Landon as Mary Shugrue, Mr. James Landon, Sr., Dorothy's father, Joseph Howe, Uncle Tom, an old colored butler. John Hickey as the Twenty-second Police Station, Philip McGowan as "Uncle Tom" and the endless mix-ups created in the attempt to maintain the dignity and hospitality of the truly southern home, furnished the audience with many moments of uncontrollable mirth. The other members of the cast were admirably maintained by James O'Neill, Joseph Howe, John Hickey, Philip McGowan, and Mary Shugrue. At the close of the play, the Very Rev. D. J. Keleher, Ph.D., V. F., pastor of the church, was presented by the members of the class of 1923, with a mounted, leather bound dictionary. Father Keleher responded to the presentation very graciously, and in return he presented the school with a dictionary he had received almost forty years ago while he was in Roxbury, stating that at the end of another forty years he would be glad to make a like exchange again. After the presentation was concluded, refreshments were served. The whole delightful affair was under the direction of the Good Sisters of St. Peter's convent, who also developed

A Pleasant
Surprise!Arlington Sausage
Baked in Potato

The sweet tender meat and choice seasoning of the sausage give the potato a surprisingly delicious flavor.

Arlington Sausage makes it good. The richness of the Arlington flavor is due to the careful selection of meat and spices.

Made fresh daily of sweet, tender pork cut from choice corn-fed porkers, chopped—not ground—and blended with savory spices. A sausage with a flavor and wholesomeness that is satisfying.

You will now find Arlington Sausage available both in and out of the city. Ask your dealers about the new Arlington Sausage Patties.

Says High Blood Pressure
Can Be Reduced to Normal
THOUSANDS HAVE IT AND DON'T KNOW IT

Indicated by Dizzy Spells, Nervousness, Pains in the Head, and Sleeplessness.

Perhaps you don't know that high blood pressure is so serious that Life Insurance Companies decline to accept as risks people who have it.

That's the best reason in the world why anyone with this trouble should start at once to reduce the pressure. NORMA, the prescription now sold by A. W. Dow & Co., and all good druggists, has been so successful in reducing blood pressure to normal that the sales are growing to an extent beyond all expectations.

Most people who have high blood pressure are troubled with dizzy spells, pains in the head, lack of appetite, and nervousness. They are usually restless, sometimes moody and can't sleep well.

Many women at the changing time of life suffer severely and have hot flashes, headache and a miserable feeling at times.

All such ailments, if caused by high blood pressure, will quickly disappear if NORMA is used intelligently. In many cases one bottle works wonders.

Sometimes more is necessary, but sufferers may be sure that one bottle will show them that NORMA is just what they need.

If you have high blood pressure or any of the symptoms, NORMA is the medicine you can rely upon. It is purely vegetable, and harmless and safe for anyone to take.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

THE RIALTO THEATRE

Baseball, romance, thrills and humor are all combined in a happy combination in "Trilling With Honor," now playing at the Rialto theatre. It tells the story of an ex-convict who became a Babe Ruth and the idol of the baseball world. The big thrill comes in the climax when Bat Shugart knocks a home run and wins the big series, in spite of the fact the gambling ring holds a weapon over his head and wanted him to double-cross his own team, in order to satisfy the bets placed by them. In the end you will find Jackknife Fellows, Hayden Stevenson, Fritz Ridgeway, Buddy Messenger and others.

Richard Talmadge, billed as "the human dynamo," certainly lives up to his name in "The Speed King," a fast moving comedy drama, that will keep you on edge every minute. Talmadge performs a few stunts that will make you sit up and take notice; he's a wonder.

"Rob 'Em Good," a burlesque on "Robin Hood," with Bull Montana and the latest episode of "The Social Buccaneer" complete the bill.

CROWN THEATRE

role for F.R.O. release, and coming to the Crown theatre today. Marguerite Clayton plays the leading feminine role opposite Carey, with the supporting cast including Fred Stanton, Joseph Hurrie, Carmen Arzelle, Jack Curtis, Charles J. Le Moyne, Vester Peak, Murdock MacQuarrie and Mignonne Golden.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Lloyd Isbell's Entertainers, reinforced by Margie Coate, can certainly put across real snappy, stepping music, at the B. F. Keith theatre this week. The combination is criticism-proof; in other words, it is flawless. There are many other good things on this week's bill, including Simpson & Dean in an act with a startling finish, Maxfield & Golsen, who give a side-splitting burlesque on "Romeo and Juliet"; Emond & Grant, with a dancing act that is unequalled, and Marguerite & Alvarez, in an aerial act which is beautiful and hazardous. The picture feature is "Dollar Devils," which holds both comedy and real drama.

THE STRAND

"The Spoilers," the great story of early Alaska, by Rex Beach, which is playing at the Strand during the week-end, is without question one of the greatest of its kind on the screen. The most thrilling fight ever screened is shown. The cast of characters present some of the stellar lights. The second feature is William Russell in "Gandy, Gandy." This is a pleasing relief from the other extreme of entertainment as provided by the former story. The comedy and weekly are great. Mustard numbers are always enjoyable, and Strand comfort is to be had at no other theatre.

The 1924 model Ford may turn out to be a political machine.

THE TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

Nearly everybody has a plan to relieve congestion of traffic in the downtown districts. Mayor Donovan has suggested a street from East Merrimack street, near the square, to Warren street, over the canal along the railroad track, and passing out between the Strand theatre building and the Ipswich mill. His plan would make it a one way street. As such it would help to relieve congestion at the square and around the Auditorium.

The Planning board has a different solution to offer, a sketch of which appeared in yesterday's Sun, showing the proposed lines of a street extending from East Merrimack street through Davidson and bridging the Concord, either to connect with George street or Warren street. The latter course would be the more direct and probably the less expensive. It remains for the Planning board, or else a committee of engineers and builders appointed by the city council to settle upon the lines of any such street and make an estimate of the cost before a final action can be taken. The fact that both streets would run through factory buildings makes it a certainty that the damage claims would be quite heavy. There is no reason why from all these suggestions a practical solution of the difficulties to be overcome in the business district cannot be evolved.

Of course much can be obtained by diverting through traffic from the congested points. This can be done by improving Appleton, Church and High streets, Thorneike and Fletcher streets and a few other thoroughfares of like importance.

AN ALL AMERICAN LEAGUE

Congressman Britten, of Illinois, after a visit to Europe comes out strongly in favor of our building up a League of the Americas as embodied in the Pan-American union, rather than once more involving ourselves in the turmoil of European intrigue.

He has made six trips to Europe since the Armistice and the information thus gathered has convinced him that the logical aim of American statesmanship should be to work for the solidarity of the American republics. At the present time, his policy is gaining ground and an effort is being made to overcome the jealousy of some of the South American republics, based on the assumption that the United States is wielding too much authority under the Monroe doctrine, which they regard as a political league.

The one great objection to the all-American union would be that a similar combination in the old world would militate against our possession of the Philippines, or any other territory in the eastern hemisphere. It is plain, therefore, that consistency forbids a policy of strict isolation for the reason that the converse of such a policy might be applied against us by foreign nations.

"AS TO CANNED GOODS"

Count Tolstoy, son of the Russian writer, remarks that we are well on our way to the civilization of canned food, canned music, canned drama and canned thought. There is much truth in what the count says for the reason that great progress has been made in all the lines he mentions. It would be well for Russia if she did a little more in the canning business. It cannot be denied that canned food from the United States saved millions of lives in Russia during the last few years. Canned music and canned thought, which are here mentioned, offer great possibilities of education for the masses and to these the people of Russia are total strangers.

The canning business, as so designated, is not to be scoffed at. It is one of the steps forward in civilization by which we are able to preserve products that would otherwise perish or be lost and to send our music and our thought in "canned" form down the ages. So far as food is concerned, the canning process provides a method of preservation under which food products otherwise perishable can be transported to the uttermost ends of the earth for the relief of famine and thus save the lives of countless millions. Canning is, therefore, one of the most important developments of the present age and as applied to music, moving pictures and the drama, it is the product of the highest order of inventive genius. The sooner Count Tolstoy's country realizes this fact, the better will it be for all her people.

LOWELL'S SHOE INDUSTRIES

Lowell's numerous shoe industries are waiting patiently for the new business orders covering the 1924 "faster runs" with entire optimism. A tour of the medium-grade shoe manufacturing plants, large and small, brings out this fact. While some manufacturers are a little puzzled by present market conditions, there has been no backward step, no halt in steady operations, with orders on the books fairly large for the regular styles.

There is evidence that the fall and winter "runs" in some of the large shoe shops of Lowell will be on a normal scale, as several concerns have already exhibited a sizable stock of new style samples that will undoubtedly draw the required orders. This is the feeling in the widespread shoe shops of Lowell today where large numbers of men and women are on the payroll. It is positive evidence of a renewal of normal prosperity in this line of the local industrial output and indicates the wisdom of the five-wire in charge of the new industrial plants who selected Lowell as an ideal location for the production of medium grade shoes at a time of retrenchment on the part of the buying public.

THE RUM TREATY

Great Britain has entered into an arrangement with our government to co-operate with the federal agents who are trying to stop the importation of liquor. Some time ago, it was announced that the federal authorities would permit British ships to bring liquor into port under seal if England permitted them to search for evidence for liquor twelve miles from shore. It seems that this understanding has been ratified between the two governments; but how about the ships of other countries entering our ports with liquor aboard? The problem that is concerned in England cannot be denied to France, Italy, Japan, Germany or any other country. In all probability the importation of liquor from Canada, Bermuda and Jamaica will continue some time before the rum

A Thought

A friend should be like money, freely before being required, not found gratis in our need.—Maturich.

Wanted a Pair

An elderly gentleman was pressed into service to escort a niece to a dinner. Finding himself very much out of place, he sought a secluded spot behind a screen and fell into a half doze. A couple of waiters happened along and he overheard the following conversation: "Who, girl?" "Who?" "Can you lemme have a puff?" "Powder or cigar?"

The English Accent

Vincent Asfar, homeward bound on the Mauretania, said one evening: "I like the English accent. I attended a dance last week on an English man-of-war, and as I arrived I saw some sailors putting the finishing touches to a lot of queer things contrived. 'What are these things you're building?' I asked a sailor. He didn't have an answer, but they were snickers for sitting out, but he put it more neatly than that. 'It's for 'ugliness,' he said."

An Old Landmark

Happening by the old location of the Hanover studies recently—I noticed that most of the debris had been cleared away, leaving but a few piles of charred boards and bent and twisted bracing beams and a few stone foundations, now crumbled and strewn. But over on the left hand side of the burned area I discovered, still standing meekly in its old position and prominently before the eye because of its seeming isolation, the staunch, old-fashioned, hand-carved granite watering trough, used by the horses quartered at the stables for scores of years. The big stone with its water basin chipped out slowly by some bygone stonecutter, is rather imposing in some ways. It stands about three feet high and is one solid block of granite. Some stonecutter has chipped out the four sides with care and method. The rim of the basin is very smooth and worn, indicating where the chins of countless horses and cattle have rubbed as they lapped themselves sedately after partaking of cool patios of city water. I haven't asked anyone at the new Hanover stable what they are going to do with this sturdy relic of the old establishment, but I would suggest that Mr. H. and his wide-awake right-hand man now handling the blankets and whips at the auction, leave that watering trough right where it is as a memorial to happy days.

Partners

He came to me when all the world seemed dark. Though sunlight filled the skies: He came and sat beside me at the ark. And looked his understanding in my eyes. We talked, as man to man. I told him how I tried, and failed—and failed. And he said he, he said, but would not bow. Nor own defeat, though everywhere I failed. His touch upon my knee brought courage now. His whisper buoyed me up. We're partners now, we're going to see it through. I and that blessed, brave-souled, doubtful, but not doubting, fellow—H. P. WHITE, in Los Angeles Times.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

In a few months a season's troupe will be formed in this city by the local headquarters. The troupe-master or "backstage" will be H. B. Leggett, who was the prime factor in the Navy day celebration in Lowell, and his assistant will be Walter C. Lindsay, of 49 North Main street, who has received his training at Tabor academy. The navy department has promised to send the new troupe a full rigged cutter for the use of the boys in their instruction. It is expected that the troupe will be organized about next February. In the group the boys are taught the elements of seamanship in addition to the other principles of seafaring. The Navy club of this city is sponsoring this division of the work.

The local fire department is so pleased with the work that boy scouts are doing that the campaign this week for funds has been supported by them in every way possible. Plaque cards have been distributed to every member of the department and considerable enthusiasm worked.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION COURSES AT C. Y. M. L.

In accordance with a vote taken by the members of the C. Y. M. L., a meeting of all males interested in the formation of university extension courses will be held this evening in the school hall, Suffolk street. The number of classes will depend entirely upon the number wishing to enroll. The surroundings for many classes are admirable as the building itself has been a school for many years. Rev. John J. McFarley, D.C.L., the pastor of St. Patrick's parish, and Rev. Thomas J. McLaughlin, spiritual director of the Lyceum, are deeply interested in the project, and nothing would please them more than a capacity gathering at tonight's gathering. The meeting will be called at 8 o'clock.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

C. B. Stoddard's camp at Carbett's pond, Windham, N. H., was the scene of a very enjoyable Halloween party, Wednesday evening. The party was given by the 99 Mammoth road. The camp was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and Indian novelties. Games and dancing were the features of the evening program. At 11 o'clock refreshments were served. Those who desired the pleasure of the evening returned to Lowell at a late hour.

The firemen realize the amount of help that they can receive from a good organization of scouts in this city and want to see it successfully started on its way to a big year. This is only one of the many places that the boys are taught to be of service to the public.

Wait until the B Battery boys get into that big military parade to be held in Haverhill about the middle of November! Haverhill citizens are to see a military demonstration embracing almost every branch of the United States service and one of the most pretentious ever witnessed outside of the regular army contingents. The dates are Nov. 12, 13 and 14. Besides the visiting troops, there will be a platoon of field artillery from the national guard, and I am informed the local boys are enthusiastic about their invitation to participate in the military carnival.

With a New York-owned chain store system distributing standard weight and quality loaves of bread in Lowell for six cents per loaf, who comes next? It wasn't so very long ago that a great bread-distributing concern with headquarters in Boston, cut the price of its allocated staff of life from 14 to 11 cents, guaranteeing better bread more vital, purer, etc. Lowell export bakers say that time product, after a few weeks' exhibition on the counters of local stores, was cheapened in quality and became such that Lowell housekeepers refused to buy it. Materials used in baking cheap bread are not always of high standard, although some of the outside bakers get inside the legal requirements.

Rev. Percy E. Thomas of this city was among the speakers in advocacy of a resolution passed at a meeting of the Andover Association of Congregational churches this week, condemning the "lawlessness at the present time and warning candidates for public office that they cannot expect to receive the votes of church members unless they stand for the fullest enforcement of the law." The resolution further reads in part that "the non-enforcement of the 18th amendment is a disgrace to our communities and our state, and this Andover Association of Congregational churches and ministers in full meeting assembled, hereby calls the attention of our churches to the importance of being definitely lined up with the forces of law and order."

Because of the big demand for tickets at the football games this fall, someone rises to ask if football will eventually take the place of baseball as the leading American game? It is hardly think it will, because baseball is not so hazardous, and does not take so much out of an athlete. But there is a good deal to be said about football. There is something about a football crowd that sets you. The cheering section, the whistle of the officials, the beautiful girls wrapped up in furs, all go to instill a romantic feeling that is lacking in baseball.

ACTIVITIES AT HANOVER

Dartmouth Opens Two-Day Period Never Equalled in Its 155 Years of Existence

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 2.—Dartmouth college today opens a two-day period of activity never equalled in its 155 years of existence. Included in the program are four athletic contests, headed by the Cornell-Dartmouth football game tomorrow; the Dartmouth night annual reunion; the dedication of the Memorial arch in honor of the 112 Dartmouth graduates who lost their lives in the World war, culminating in the presentation of the Memorial field to the college and the dedication of the new stadium with the Cornell football game.

The dedication of the Memorial arch bearing a bronze tablet with the college's honor roll, will take place tonight. The archway is one of the entrances to the stadium, which will seat 7200 persons and which was built at a cost of $150,000.

Included in the day's activities is a soccer game between Dartmouth and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Tomorrow morning, the Dartmouth and Cornell cross country teams will meet.

The exercises will come to their climax with the dedication of the stadium tomorrow at which time the memorial committee will present the athletic field to the college. Dartmouth football teams have taken part in the dedication of athletic fields or stadiums at Harvard, the University of Washington, Princeton and the University of Vermont, and in each instance, defeated the opposing team. The new athletic field is complete, including provision for baseball diamonds, grid-iron, tennis courts, track and a hockey rink.

WALTON TO CHALLENGE MANY CHARGES

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Governor J. C. Walton will go before the state court of impeachment today to challenge many of the charges upon which he is being tried for official misconduct.

Argument on his demurrer to 14 of the 22 articles constituting the indictment upon which he was impeached, will be heard, with the prospect that legal jockeying over the action will prevent actual bringing of the trial, until next Monday or Tuesday. After a decision on the demurrer, the governor must enter his formal plea.

Charging that the 14 allegations either do not constitute impeachable offenses or are based on insufficient evidence, counsel for the executive filed the demurrer at the close of the first session of the hearing late yesterday after failing in their efforts to obtain a continuance and to quash the entire bill of impeachment.

MR. HARRIS SPEAKS AT GREENHALGE SCHOOL

An audience of over 50 teachers and parents listened to an interesting talk by Principal Henry H. Harris, of the high school, delivered in the Greenhalge school yesterday afternoon before the members of the Parent-Teachers association. Mr. Harris spoke on the general subject of high school preparation. The main element that is lacking in boys and girls coming into high school, is the knowledge of the proper way to study and sometimes these pupils even graduate successfully without ever having learned, according to Mr. Harris. This instruction should be given in the elementary schools and a proper sense of interest in school work developed. He explained the various courses in the high school curriculum, and in the high school curriculum, and in particular he praised the commercial department, in which 43 per cent of the total student body is enrolled. The success of this department, he declared to be due to the generosity of the school committee in providing a complete equipment. The need of getting a good start, was emphasized by Mr. Harris, who stated that most of the failures came from pupils not settling down to the work early in the year, and then being unable to overcome the handicap. Mr. Harris was introduced by Principal John G. Wolcott of the Greenhalge school, who also introduced Miss Frances Drownstein, pianist, and Horatio B. Leggat, soloist. Miss Brownstein played the waltz in D flat by Chopin, and the "Sextet from Lucia" with arrangement for the left hand only, by Lechetzky. Mr. Leggat sang the "I'll sing Song" and "Love Sends a Little Gift of Love." The program was in charge of Miss Lucy Desmond. The address was followed by a business meeting at which Mrs. Gertrude Chiquar, presided, and a small gift of appreciation was presented. Mrs. John T. Ashton for the work she had done as the first president of the association. The secretary's report of the last meeting was read by Miss Alice Dudley, and accepted, and 28 new members were admitted. Refreshments were served by the social committee. Mrs. Rita Cluff, chairman.

VETERAN OF WHITE ARMY

Ivan Chernokoff, Son of Gen. Chernokoff, Who Saw Service Under Czar, Arrives

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 2.—Ivan Chernokoff, a youthful veteran of the White Army, whose campaign against the bolshevik forces ended in disaster four or five years ago, and son of Gen. Ivan Chernokoff, who saw service in the Russian Imperial army under three czars, the last of the Romanoff rulers, was a passenger on the North German Lloyd liner Seydlitz, which resumed her voyage to New York today.

He came here from Jugo-Slavia, where he has made his home the past three years and where his father now resides. He hopes to complete his education in this country.

AUTO FINE COLLECTIONS FOR OCTOBER

Statistics in the clerk's office of the district court show that the sum of $2460 was paid to the treasurer of the commonwealth during the month of October as the result of fines collected in the district court for violations of the automobile laws. A comparison of last month's figures with those of the preceding months shows an increase in October of $724 more than the next closest month, July, when $1736 was collected.

It would seem that the large October total vindicates the assertion of State Registrar Goodwin that the month just passed and the present month are the worst of the year as far as automobile law violations are concerned.

The local records, including automobiles and motorcycles, since the first of the year are as follows: January, $32; February, none; March, $130; April, $285; May, $1015; June, $192; July, $1736; August, $1250; September, $1165; October, $2460. Total, $9295.

us a result of the collision, both machines were disabled.

According to the driver of the Marmon, T. J. Coffey, the accident was caused by a third machine that went on its way after the accident without ascertaining the damage done. The Mack truck was coming down Westford street and the Marmon going up Chelmsford towards Westford street when this third machine cut in ahead of the Marmon and directly in front of the truck. The driver of the truck swung his machine sharply to the left to avoid striking the third car and smashed into the Marmon. The forward parts of both machines were badly smashed.

TO ADDRESS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LUNCHEON

The chamber of commerce has secured Edward P. Trefz of Chicago to address a membership luncheon of that organization in Liberty hall on Nov. 14. Mr. Trefz is one of the best known speakers on chamber of commerce organizations in America today and was a field secretary of the United States chamber of commerce for seven years. He served under Hon. Herbert Hoover on the overseas food commission and is thoroughly familiar with conditions abroad as well as at home. He has a real message and it is hoped that all members of the chamber will attend the luncheon.

MINOR CASES IN DISTRICT COURT

John Sullivan, charged with the larceny of $7 from a Mrs. Donovan, was given a suspended sentence of two months in the house of correction on condition that he make restitution for the above amount.

Eva Virville, 23, pleaded not guilty to being a disorderly person. On her promise to go back to Canada, where her mother and father reside, she was given a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory.

INVITED TO TAKE PART IN PARADE

Members of the C.M.T.C. camp held at Camp Devens during August, 1921, 1922 and 1923 have received notice that they are invited to participate in the parade to be held on Sunday, Nov. 11 in Boston in celebration of Armistice day. This is the first time that the members of the camps have been assembled outside of the training period. There are approximately 200 men in this city who have attended these camps, and while figures are not available it is probable that many will join in the Lowell delegation to the hub on that day. The marshal of this division is Col. Jolley, an old veteran of many campaigns who commended the camps of 1921 and 1923, with a wonderful amount of success and is loved by all the local men who came in contact with him.

2,250,000 HOGS VICTIMS OF CHOLERA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Cholera killed approximately four per cent. of the hogs on farms in the United States during the last year. The bureau of animal industry, announcing this estimate today, said losses were heaviest in Iowa, Nebraska, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Georgia, Minnesota and South Dakota, in the order named. Each of these states, it is estimated, lost more than 100,000 head from the disease.

The total number of swine lost from hog cholera exceeded 2,250,000, valued approximately at $29,325,000.

The department of agriculture is urging the preventative serum treatment combined with strict sanitation and thorough disinfection of premises after outbreaks as the most effective way to control the disease.

SEN. PEPPER TALKS ON VOLSTEAD LAW

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania in an address last night before the Illinois Women's Republican club, declared that in 10 years' time, those who now break the Volstead law will "either have changed their point of view, or died, or become unpopular." He declared himself for rigid enforcement of the 18th amendment.

Although prohibition enforcement at present is the greatest national question in his opinion, he said he could not see how it would be a party issue. "It is to be expected," he said, "that state officers will blame their enforcement deficiencies upon the nation, and that the nation will regurgitate upon the states."

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD

Various Questions Discussed
at Regular Weekly Meeting,
Yesterday Afternoon

The board of public service held its regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and acted upon a number of questions which came up for discussion.

It was voted to approve the purchase of two new dump wagons for the ash department at a cost of $325 each and upon the request of Mayor John J. Donovan a conference with representatives of public service corporations in relation to the opening of streets was set for next Thursday afternoon at the usual meeting hour.

This request from the mayor was prompted by a belief that permits issued for the opening of streets are not being conformed to inasmuch as surfaces are not being replaced in original conditions. The letter upon the matter follows:

Board of Public Service,
Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, Chairman,
Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: It is apparent that the permits issued to public service corporations to tear up our streets for purposes of installation of materials necessary for development of service to the public, and on condition that the streets so torn up be put in as good and safe condition as formerly, are not properly conformed to.

Some of our best paved streets are broken into and little regard given to repair afterwards. It is a matter that should be checked up very carefully, and if the work of repairing the streets is not properly attended to, a just assessment of damages should be made.

I would suggest that your board call into conference the heads of the various public service corporations together with the mayor for the purpose of arriving at a definite understanding and program in relation to street repairs by public service corporations.

Very truly yours,
JOHN J. DONOVAN, Mayor.

Considerable time was taken up by a discussion of the new Cherry &

Webb construction at Merrimack and John streets. Herbert Rugg appeared before the board to remonstrate against the placing of steel piers into the sidewalk area. Percy E. Gilbert, architect, explained the construction and said the piers come out into the sidewalk for a distance of only six inches and are the same as those which were a part of the old Five Cent Savings bank building. The board felt the matter was one for the law department to decide and referred it to Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds.

The board acted on a communication from Lowell post, American Legion, relative to the naming of three squares for World war heroes, referred to it by the council and authorized the preparation of the necessary orders.

Councilor Arthur Genest appeared before the board relative to a dump nuisance in the rear of the Textile school and also favored the installation of lights in the vicinity of Conduit street and the river bank. The health department also informed the board of a number of complaints received about the dump in question and asked that it be abandoned and covered over with fresh soil. It was referred to Supt. Harrington of the ash and waste division.

COTTON JUMPED OVER 100 POINTS IN MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Cotton jumped over 100 points in the local market today, on publication of the department of agriculture's forecast of 10,245,000 bales.

Decrease in Prospective Crop
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—A decrease of 767,000 bales in the prospective cotton crop as compared with a month ago, was shown today in the department of agriculture's forecast of 10,245,000 bales, based on conditions prevailing Oct. 25. The report was the first of its kind ever issued in November and had been awaited with interest by the cotton world, in view of the scarcity of cotton and the diversity of opinion as to the exact size of this year's crop.

In commenting on the cotton report, the crop reporting board said: "The forecast expresses the probable outcome interpreted from the present status of the crop on the basis of past relations and from the reported percentage picked, percentage abandoned, and probable yield per acre. The change in forecast since Sept. 25 reflects the change due to weather and other factors since that date as ascertained by the board from all information at its command. "Generally unfavorable weather and heavy rains in the southwest, exceptional damage to grown bolls

REFERENDUM ON DAYLIGHT SAVING

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—A referendum on state-wide daylight saving, now in force five months of the year and a long-standing source of dispute between farmers, towns and city dwellers, will be laid before the state legislature at its coming session. According to plans outlined yesterday by Walter Powers, of the Boston chamber of commerce and others, the scheme has special merit, its proponents say, because it would bring out a large and usually inactive farmer vote in a presidential election year, so that politicians may look kindly upon it. The chamber of commerce is against any repeal of the daylight saving law and believes it has already demonstrated that nine-tenths of the people of the commonwealth are in favor of the law, but the referendum is seen as a perfectly fair method of giving the farmers a say on a question admittedly vital to their welfare.

by the weevil, result of leaf worm ravages, coupled with the heaviest abandonment on record, resulted in a forecast of about 767,000 bales below last month's.

World stocks of cotton at the close of the cotton year, July 31, were very low. The department of commerce reporting holdings at 8,400,000 bales compared with 9,555,000 bales on July 31, 1922. Holdings in the United States from this year's crop totaled 6,100,575 bales to October 18, according to census bureau reports.

Two Gobelin Tapestries Stolen

VERSAILLES, France, Nov. 2.—The police have arrested a man named Prosper Charles, whose finger prints, they allege, correspond with those found on a window of the room in the Versailles Palace from which two Gobelin tapestries were recently stolen. The finger print department was closed yesterday on account of the holiday, and so the authorities were unable to identify Charles positively. Another clue which they consider important, is that one of Charles' shoes had a new lace. A broken lace was found near the window out of which the tapestry was taken. The police hint that other arrests will follow. Charles is a day laborer.

Fourth Earth Shock in Three Days

MANILA, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press) Another earthquake shock, the fourth in three days, lasting about 10 seconds, was felt here at 2:43 o'clock this afternoon. No damage has been reported. The origin of the tremor is believed to have been near Taal volcano, which is located on a small island in Bombon lake, Batangas province, Luzon.

Attorneys for Jackie Coogan to Bring Suit

SUCCESS OF LEAGUE UP TO UNITED STATES

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 2.—"It is you in America who must decide the success of the League of Nations," Ambassador J. J. Jusserand said today as he left the United States liner George Washington to return to Washington after a visit to France for recreation and rest. He will leave Boston on the Federal express tonight.

Desiring to see at first hand some of the operations of the League of Nations, he went to Geneva where it was sitting. "It is remarkable," he said, "that the league has been able to function as well as it has, in view of the obstacles placed in its path."

"I found a number of Americans here, including Representative Porter and others who were interested in the sessions being held. The members of the league assembly are sincere men who are making every effort to arrive at the end for which the league was formed."

When one stops to consider that the league idea is centuries old and that the present assembly is the first realization of the hope of all these years, it may be said that the results thus far accomplished are gratifying. With the unsettled conditions in Europe and the strife that has existed between nations, adjustment has not been easy to arrive at.

"I believe that things are bound to work out well for all concerned with the help of heaven, but who can tell when it will come about? You in America must decide."

YALE MISSION NOT IN DANGER

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—A cable message received at Yale university late yesterday from the Yale-China mission at Chungking, China, in response to a cable inquiry as to press reports of imminent danger to the mission as a result of the bombardment of the city of Chungking during an encounter between northern and southern Chinese troops says: "Situation gives but little cause for concern. CHICAGO

BY GEORGE BUTT, N.E.A. Service Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Automobile rides and balls are least popular among convention visitors in Chicago.

The notion that a convention has to have its time filled up either with serious speeches or distracting entertainment gets a denial from George Hull Porter and John F. Bowman of the Association of Commerce convention bureau.

Convention crowds want time to look around independently. There are plenty of sights to keep them interested without a frenzied entertainment schedule.

These statements are based on experience with hundreds of conventions. This story comes as an aftermath to the fall. One patrolman, who got himself excused from duty regularly to practice for the meet, was suspected of using athletics to dodge work. His day.

A squirrel is teaching thrift to Chicago, probably the most influential animal instructor since the spider taught the policeman's flid day head early in the fall. While this part of the world is stirring itself to send missionaries to foreign lands, the heathen isn't playing altogether a waiting game. A single Moslem missionary, having set up a temporary mosque on the South Side here, reports 650 converts in the last six months. His name is Ismaili Muhammad Diy and he is a student at the University of Chicago.

captain quizzed him as to what place he sought on the track team.

"I'm ready for any event you've got," the man announced.

"How about the pole vault?" asked the captain. "We need somebody for 'hut'."

"Just give me another week's practice," was the reply. "And I can throw the thing out of the lot."

There were 743 conventions here last year, besides 650 others which had less than 50 in attendance.

The names of the organizations would make a chapter in American terminology. For instance, there is the Exalted Society of Order Hounds, and the Arcadian and Honorable Order of the Blue Goose, which has one official entitled the "Keeper of the golden goose egg." And the Conventuated Order of Hoo-Hoo, presided over by the "spark of the universe." All have a serious purpose.

SETTLEMENT OF CLAIMS

Recommendations for Legislation Limiting Authority of Comptrollers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Recommendation for legislation limiting the authority of the comptroller general's office in the settlement of claims against the government, are forecast as a result of disclosures before the senate committee investigating the Veterans' bureau.

Sharp questioning and comments by the senators followed the frank statement to the committee yesterday by W. B. Gordon, an attorney in the comptroller's office, whose salary is $2000 a year, that he had settled a claim of $23,000 in full without reference of the matter to his superiors or calling for detailed information from the Veterans' bureau which disallowed the claim.

The bill passed upon was that of Matthew O'Brien, a San Francisco architect, who claimed this sum for re-writing plans for a projected hospital at Livermore, Cal., for the original drafting of which the Veterans' bureau already had paid $64,000.

Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau, disallowed the claims and filed a counter one for $5000 against O'Brien, on the ground that he had been overpaid for the first drawings.

Gordon said he was following the procedure of the general accounting office in disposing of the claim in the manner in which he did. Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, said he thought there should be legislation affecting the general accounting office, while Senators Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, and Odell, republican, Nevada, the other members of the committee, expressed surprise at the manner in which the office operated.

After four successive days of hearings, the Veterans' committee was in recess today.

PARTING MESSAGE

BY LLOYD GEORGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—David Lloyd George tonight delivers his parting message to the American people.

At the Metropolitan Opera House, on the eve of his departure for his homeland, Britain's war time premier will face the last public gathering of his present tour which has carried him to more than a score of American and Canadian cities.

The staff of the opera house is prepared to handle a crowd which is expected to fill the large theatre and to overflow the streets. Elaborate police protection is in readiness to handle the crowd and to nip in the bud any possible antagonistic demonstration on the part of Irish republicans who have threatened to attempt to heckle them British statesman.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor, Lowell Sun: In its October 19th issue, "Le Clairon," a small weekly published in French, took to task the Centralville Social club—whose membership is composed of citizens of French extraction—because it chose to print in English the program of its second annual social and dance given in Associate hall for the benefit of the club's building fund.

The editorial in question is headed: "What has become of our great patriots?" and it purports to condemn the Centralville Social club for its implied unpatriotic use of the English language in a program designed for the public at large. In reference to said program, it also terms "ridiculous" a few words entitled "An Appreciation" because the Centralville Social club "thanks in the language of Shakespeare" its advertisers and patrons of the dance who contributed to its financial success. "Le Clairon" further remarks that the Centralville Social club should be called "Le Club Social de Centralville" and that "it is a French-American club that changes its name and repudiates its language."

Such utterances are indefensible when made in connection with an American club whose sole offense has been the use, on a public occasion, of a language which is the common denominator of the various races composing the American people. The majority of naturalized American citizens of French extraction and the totality of those of that racial strain who are American-born and American-bred recognize on all occasions the priority and desirability of the English language in this country and those among us—and they are many—who also cling to the French language do so only as one does to an old family bedroom one holds

dear for sentimental reasons. We respect the grand French language, but it cannot and should not supersede the English on such occasions.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, kindly allow us to protest, through the medium of your paper, against the outpourings of "Le Clairon" insofar as they aim to create or perpetuate a most undesirable racial bloodiness and to impress on the minds of our fellow-citizens of different racial origin the conviction that we, of French ancestry, desire to associate with them in all that constitutes the national and social life of the United States.

Very respectfully yours,
THE CENTRALVILLE SOCIAL CLUB,
LEO A. KEROACK,
General Manager of Dance Committee.

PILES

Can't Be Cured from the Outside
External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through the stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method.

J. S. Leonardt, M. D., set at work some years ago to find a real internal Pile remedy. He succeeded. He named his prescription REM-ROD, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now REM-ROD is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It's easy to take, and can always be found at Green's Drug store, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any discoverer of despondency.—Ad.

Young Married Women Need Mother's Advice—

MRS. PEARL STEELE
203 MAIN ST., WARRENSBURG, MO.

A GREAT many women after childbirth get up too soon and, too weak to care for the child and perform their household duties, often bring on serious derangements.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid tonic to take at this time; it is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers. Thousands of mothers advise their daughters to take this grand old root and herb medicine for such conditions because of their own favorable experience with it.

Following We Publish an Interesting Letter From Mrs. Steele of Warrensburg, Which Should Interest Every Mother in the Land:

WARRENSBURG, MO.—"When my second child was born I got up too soon as my mother wasn't able to do for me. I could not stand on my feet without being dizzy and my back would ache so badly that I would have to lie down at times through the day. My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a bottle of it at the time so she begged me to take it which I did and I cannot tell you how much better I felt after taking it. Then a year later my husband got back from overseas and we went to keeping house by ourselves and I got all run down again. I couldn't work long at a time but would have to sit down and rest. My husband kept begging me to take the Vegetable Compound again so I have done so. I recommend it when I can as I know it is good for women's troubles and I thought you might like to know what it has done for me."—MRS. PEARL M. STEELE, 203 Main St., Warrensburg, Mo.

Another Interesting Case

CHESTER, PA.—"I was all run-down and in a weak condition when I married. I had many of the troubles women often have and the birth of my children left me almost a wreck. One day my brother-in-law was visiting us and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I said, 'It's no use, as nothing does me any good.' He asked me if I would take it if he would buy it, and to please him I said, 'Yes.' He bought me three bottles before there was a change, so you see I was pretty badly off. I couldn't do any work before this, and kept a girl. I got so well I did my own work and later had more children and kept my good health. I do all my work and take in sewing too, and am raising plants for Memorial Day. I feel younger than I did at twenty because I have good health."—MRS. L. A. LAMPY, 1135 Madison St., Chester, Pa.

PONIES AND INDIANS EX-CROWN PRINCE T
RETURN TO GERMANY

135-Pound Teams to Meet at Alumni Field Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at Alumni field, the Ponies, representing the Centralville section of the city, and the Indian Seconds, representing the upper Northam street section, will engage in a championship contest at Alumni field.

for the 136-pound championship of the city. The game was arranged after a great deal of controversy between the rival managements and has created considerable interest, not only in the sections represented by the contesting teams, but also in other districts.

It is doubtful if two teams of such equality have met before in this city this season. Both lines and backfields are light but fast and know the game from every angle. The game itself will prove which eleven is superior.

Since the completion of the arrangements for the contest, Coaches Crowland and Spence of the Rangers who have devoted much time to perfecting their machine, have held nightly sessions on the Lakeside avenue grounds. At the present writing the players are in the best of health and anxious to men best of two of the best backfield men of their weight, in the city. In the games played thus far this year these two men have played conspicuous parts. Their uncanny ability in heading forward passes has baffled all kinds of opposition and the Ponies will have to guard themselves against

The Ponies will use the same lineup that conquered the buckles for the championship of Centralville and later annexed the city championship by routing the Butler Seconds. Corley, McGowan, Cliney, Crabtree, Gardner, Hiltner, Donald, and Dyer will be in the hunt.

The fast St. Patrick's will play the

Butler Seminars on the North common next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.
As both teams claim championship honors, a good game is expected. All St.
Patrick's players are asked to appear for practice at the corner of Cross and Fletcher streets at 7 o'clock tonight.

The Sharps' Nobles will play the speedy Kenwood Rovers next Sunday. The Sharps, one of the best teams in the city, are having a difficult time trying to arrange games. Their manager claims they have tried repeatedly to induce the St. Peter's Cadets and the O.M.U. Cadets into a battle, but all of form have been fruitless. A game is also wanted with Owen Nernoy's Princeton A.A. team of Centerville. The Sharps are willing to play on the Lutetian avenue grounds if necessary. The team averages about 148 pounds in weight and came into prominence by putting up a whirlwind early-season

FRENCH REPLY AN ACCEPTANCE

Cordially Accepts Collaboration of U. S. in Conference of Experts

To Study Germany's Capacity to Pay Reparations—Replies to British Note

PARIS, Nov. 2 (By the Associated Press).—France accepts with cordiality the contemplated collaboration of the United States in a conference of experts to study Germany's capacity to pay reparations. She demands, however, that it should be clearly understood that the proposed inquiry should bear solely on the "present" capacity of Germany and that it should respect all the rights held by the reparations commission under the treaty of Versailles.

This is the substance. It was learned today, of the reply which France has made to the British note of Oct. 31, asking her to join Italy, Belgium and Great Britain in a collective invitation to the United States to be represented at the proposed conference. The reply was handed to the British embassy yesterday. Its text was not made public.

SEC. WEEKS SAYS U. S. TWO TEACHERS KILLED

PREPARED FOR WAR

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 2.—The United States with a small standing army, is prepared for war and at the same time, prepared to make good use of the army in peace, Secretary of War John W. Weeks told the Women's National Council in a message of greeting read to the biennial convention of the council here today.

The citizens' army, the message said, is ready to defend the nation at any time, while the standing army is aiding in many peace time projects. Members of the citizen army, he said, are benefited by training in fundamental military tactics, training in citizenship and a great amount of healthy exercise.

He cited the sword of Joan of Arc, the cannon of Molly Pitcher and the ministrations of Florence Nightingale as typical examples of woman in her role as a defender, and congratulated the council on its work.

Discussions of education, public health and immigration are on today's program.

LOWELL MEN WILL ATTEND MANEUVERS

On the three days following Armistice Day, the city of Lowell will be an armed camp, filled to overflowing with soldiers of the regular army, national guard and reserve corps who are to take part in military maneuvers there on those days.

The maneuvers are to be carried on on a scale never before attempted outside of a military encampment. Airplanes, tanks, heavy artillery and machine guns will be used and one feature of the maneuvers will be the construction of a pontoon bridge across the Merrimack river under conditions resembling, as nearly as possible, actual warfare. The regular army will be represented by several regiments of infantry, engineers, cavalry and artillery and also by a squadron of airships of the latest type.

The affair was sponsored by Lt. John E. Drury of the 12th Engineers, O.R.C., which is commanded by Major Percy Wilson of Lowell and he received the support of the chamber of commerce, the city government and several civic and military organizations.

Invitations have been sent to members of the Reserve through Middlesex County to attend the maneuvers and it is expected that a large party from Lowell will attend at least one day.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Nov. 2.—Edward C. Crosby, aged 77, one of the owners of the Brooks House, a former builder of street railroads in Vermont and Massachusetts, and one of the town's foremost citizens, died this morning of influenza and streptococcal throat infection. He formerly was a member of the firm of E. Crosby & Co., wholesale flour and grain dealers. In 1921 he represented Brattleboro in the legislature as a republican. He built street railroads in Brattleboro and Springfield, Vt., and Northampton and Amherst, Mass., and when the Connecticut Valley Street Railway Co., of Massachusetts was formed by the consolidation of several lines, he was made chairman of the board of directors. For ten years he had been a deacon of the Centre Congregational church. His wife, who was Mrs. Julia K. Parker, and five children by a former marriage survive.

desertion and neglect to provide. Notice was served on Arbuckle at a local hotel here on Oct. 22. The petitioner claims he deserted her in April, 1917, and says she came to Providence in September, 1919, to enter the employ of the Truett Film Co.

WHERE WILL SCOTCH COME FROM WHEN SCOTLAND GOES DRY? QUERIES BRITISH WRITER

JEFFERY L. PARNOL

By MAURICE HENLE
N.E.A. Service Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Hale and Hais, well known Scotch team, will have retired from the bunny wee footlights in another generation. And Johnny Walker, also a Scotch comedian of no mean ability, once you get him started, will by that time be a fit candidate for the Old Man's Home.

That's the prediction brought to this country by Jeffery Parnol, famous English weaver of romantic novels.

Scotland, he thinks, stands a good chance of going dry. Maybe within a generation.

"American," says this novelist, "is pointing the way. As she is leading, so will the world follow. The prohibition act here in the United States, while probably too extreme, is but an indication of the way the wind of the world is blowing.

"The entire world will be dry some day. Sooner probably than either the American or English public thinks."

And Parnol is wondering where Scotch whisky will come from when Scotland goes dry. For he is no prohibitionist.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The continued demand for railroad shares featured the irregular opening of today's stock market. United States Steel opened fractionally higher but most of the other industrial leaders showed slight recessions on initial sales. Conglomerate advanced two points to 155, a new top. Oil was again steady.

With the exception of Chesapeake & Ohio, which dropped a point from its early high, the rails were in good demand at slightly higher prices. Louisville & Nashville and "Big Boy" preferred each advancing a point. Industrial turned heavy with selling pressure, most effective against the automobile and oil issues. Texas company dropping a point to another new low for the year. Willys-Overland preferred advanced 1 1/2 to a new top. Foreign exchange opened heavy, German mark falling to a new low for the year.

Operators on the long side of the market continued their campaign for higher prices during the morning, pushing the leading speculative industrial to sag while they brought forward new leaders. Bullish demonstrations were successfully confined to a number of foreign oils, motor accessories and specialties, net gains of 2 to 3 points being registered before noon by General Asphalt coming from 22 1/2 to 25 1/2, and Reading, the Pan American and Standard Oil of California also began to move up fast.

Selling orders became more extensive after midday, a number of Australias sagged sharply until a repetition of yesterday's bullish demonstration in Chesapeake & Ohio caused a rally. Chesapeake came from 22 1/2 to 25 1/2, and Reading, the Pan American and Standard Oil of California also began to move up fast.

The closing was strong. Bread traders continued to play for reaction in the late dealings, but a fresh outburst of buying sent the general list upward just before the close. Coston preferred advanced 3 points, previously reported in danger, and General Electric moved up 1/2.

POLICE STRIKE TAKES SERIOUS TURN

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 2.—A strike of Melbourne police which started Wednesday took a more serious turn today with an attack by alleged strikers on a party of police from the country who had been sent in to protect the city. One of the country police was injured and one of the attacking party arrested. A constable on duty in the city was stoned and compelled to seek shelter.

The policemen are striking in protest against the activities of certain supervisors in the police department, who are charged with having been too strict in exacting discipline. The police have joined their comrades, increasing the number of strikers by 650 men.

S. V. Lawson, premier of Victoria, refused to receive a deputation of strikers who called on him and said the men must return to work unconditionally or they would lose their standing and be permanently barred from reinstatement. An order in council has been issued reinstating retired police officers.

"Pull off that helmet, and hide," shouted Jingo. "I can't get it off," replied Jack, as he tugged away at the head-covering. "Well, then," continued Jingo, "just stand perfectly still and Clanker will think you are a knight." And just then Clanker came into the big room.

Jack remained perfectly still as the watchman walked up to him. Every minute the little adventurer expected the watchman to attempt to grab the helmet off his head. But, instead, Clanker just smiled and walked away. "Well, you fooled him," shouted Jingo as he came from behind a curtain.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

THE TWINS START OFF FOR DIXIE LAND

"Have you ever been to Dixie Land, children?" asked the Fairy Queen. "Dixie Land?" repeated Nancy and Nick eagerly. "Where is that?" "The Fairy Queen laughed. 'You've never been there, dear, or you wouldn't ask that question. You would certainly remember, for Dixie Land is a fine big place. It's the whole south. Didn't you ever hear a song about: 'Away down south in the land of cotton, Cinnamon fields and sandy bottom, I'll away, I'll away, I'll away, I'll away'?"

"Yes, we have," answered both twins together. "Is that Dixie Land?" "It certainly is," said the Fairy Queen.

"Does cinnamon grow there?" Nick wanted to know. "Is that why they're called 'cinnamon fields'?" "No!" The Fairy Queen shook her head. "They are called that because in many places the soil is a rich reddish brown, exactly the color of cinnamon. And in many places there is a lot of sand, especially along the rivers and river valleys. That's called sandy-bottom, and good for many things to grow in. You'll like Dixie Land because it's different in many ways from the places you have been in."

"Are we going with one of your fairy helpers?" asked Nancy. "No, my dear, I'm sending you by yourselves. I want you to go around and visit all of my friends there, the birds and wood folk and water folk and see if they are happy. Let me know at once if there is anything they need. Wear those magic shoes and they will not only save you from danger but help you to travel quicker. A wish will take you any place you want to go. Here are the addresses of some of my friends."

And she handed Nick a paper with a long list of names on it.

"Some of them are hard to read," explained the Fairy Queen when she saw Nick's puzzled look. "But you'll have no trouble making them out, for the magic shoes will help you to do many things that you could not do otherwise. What is the first place you are to go to?"

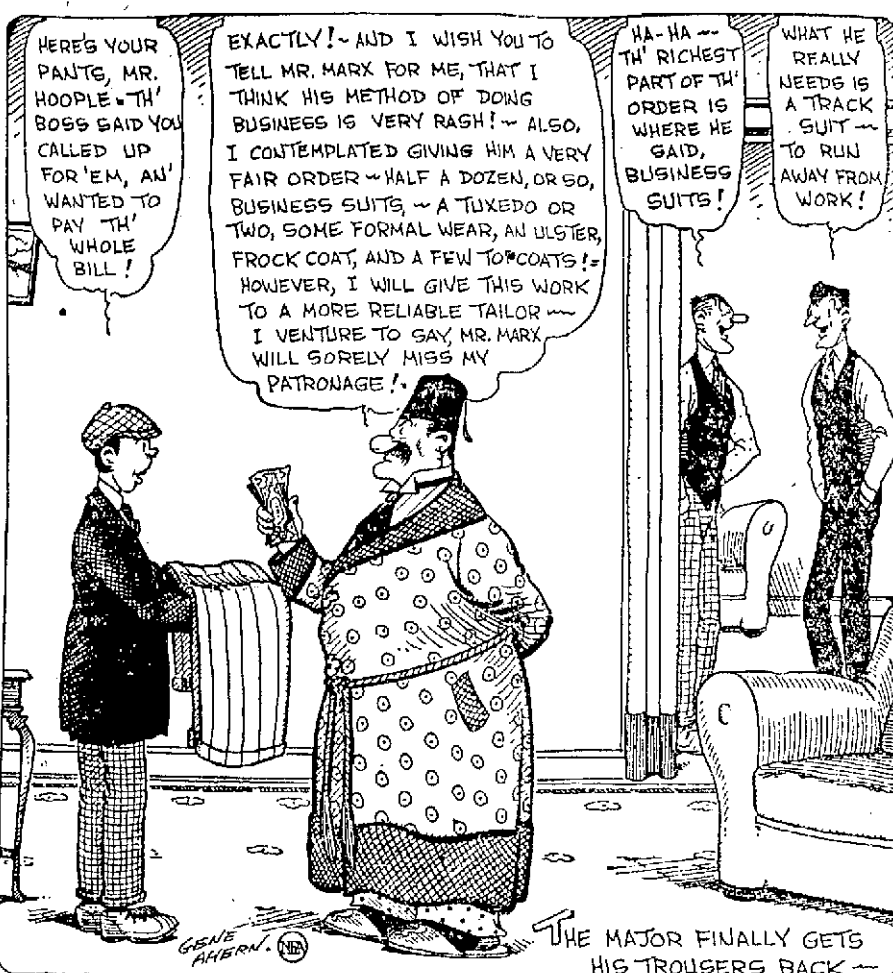

"This says 'Philander and Philomena Possum, Buttonwood Tree, Near-the-Creek, On-the-Old-Plantation,'" read the little boy.

"My, oh, my!" laughed the Fairy Queen kindly. "I haven't heard from her for months. I wonder what she is doing. Possums look always in trouble and always up to mischief, but they have as many troubles of their own as they give to other people. I think. And they are the bravest little people I know. Well, you'd better be starting. Tell Philomena Possum not to eat too many persimmons and to watch out for 'coon dogs. Goodbye!"

"Goodbye!" cried Nancy and Nick as Nimble-Toon, the Fairy Queen's doorkeeper, bowed them out.

FOODS THAT MAKE BLOOD

Carbohydrates

The carbohydrates are a pleasing, palatable food. In this great group are many sweets that tempt the appetite to overindulgence. If you will associate the name of starch and sugar foods with this group, it will help you to become familiar with its prominent members.

The carbohydrate family is loaded with sweets, many of them most excellent blood foods. They form blood for building muscle tissue, which is burned up by work and exercise. They are often wonderfully well combined with some foods of the protein group, in their makeup.

One may easily classify the leading foods in each group after a little study and be able to balance one's daily ration to the best advantage. Be careful of overweight by the free use of carbohydrates. They often supply excess pounds, as they are taken frequently between-meals by careless eaters.

Now for a few selected carbohydrates to aid you in your choosing a proper amount and sufficient variety in your diet.

Baked beans or lima beans, beets, turnips, sweet corn and raw cabbage are leaders in the vegetable line in this group. If the cabbage is cooked with the so-called "bolton" dinner, use a separate container, so the fat or grease from the beef will not coat it over and greatly reduce salivary action.

All the vegetables are rich in carbohydrates. Our old friend, raw onion, is valuable as a digestive aid and elimination agent. Baked potato is by far the best method of cooking the potato de terre.

All the cereals are leaders in this group. Rice, oat meal, corn meal, corn flakes and macaroni being favorites. Fruits and fruit sugar are strong carbohydrates. Apples, dates, figs and prunes are blood-building fruits in this group. Make all the jokes about the prunes you wish, but keep on eating them for breakfast. Honey, maple sirup and molasses are almost 100 per cent. efficient members.

For a drink of carbohydrates, grape juice leads the list. Lemon juice and buttermilk come next in value. Be careful of eating too much sugar, bread or cereals in your daily diet. Mix your carbohydrates with leafy vegetable salads, preferably raw.

There is no need to advocate the use of milk as a food. It should be used plentifully with the carbohydrates.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Commander Stuart Makes
Charges Against Former
Secretary of Interior
Wanted Naval Officers Who
Objected to Oil Leases
Transferred

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Former Secretary Fall demanded the transfer of naval officers who objected to leases he proposed to make on naval oil reserves, Commander H. A. Stuart of the navy, testified today before the senate public lands committee, investigating the subject.

Commander Stuart, who testified he had been in charge of the naval reserves in the navy department from 1918 until April 5, 1922, said Secretary Fall had insisted that Secretary Denby should send them out of Washington. Commander Stuart, he explained, also was connected with the reserve section.

The witnesses said the demand was made after the two officers had presented to Mr. Fall their objections to granting of certain leases which he proposed to make to the united mid-way company to open wells on naval reserve number one in California.

During the period the navy department had complete control over the reserves nothing had developed, Commander Stuart asserted, which made it desirable in his judgment to transfer their administration to the interior department.

The navy, he said, in handling the reserves, had received all necessary assistance from the geological survey, and the bureau of mines, and was fully competent to administer them.

No naval officer, Commander Stuart testified, had approved the transfer. Replying to an inquiry from Senator Walsh, democratic, Mountain, he said that although he had been in direct charge of the naval reserves for several years, he was not criticized by Secretary Denby concerning the desirability of such a course.

PARKER LECTURE COURSE

Lecture by Noted Egyptologist at Auditorium a Disappointment to Many

The first in this season's course of Parker lectures was given last night at the Auditorium by Mr. Arthur Weigall, noted Egyptologist, before a large audience. The lecturer presented some excellent views of the tombs of the Pharaohs, the Valley of the Kings, and other interesting spots in that locality, which were highly appreciated by those present. While the views were excellent the lecture was rather disappointing on account of the speaker's inability to make himself understood beyond the seats near the stage. He spoke in English, but it was what might be termed foreign English with which our people were not familiar. However, those who were able to hear the lecturer and to understand what he said, agree that his remarks were quite interesting and instructive.

MATRIMONIAL

Mrs. Catherine Donnellon, daughter of Mrs. Jewell Donnellon of 12 Ames avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. James S. Lougee of Bridge street, Dracut Centre, Wednesday afternoon at St. Michael's rectory by Rev. Aloysius C. Madden. The bridesmaid was Miss Mae Donnellon, sister of the bride, and the best man was Mr. Wesley Lougee, brother of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home and a luncheon was served to many guests from Lowell and out of town. Late in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip by automobile and will be at home after Nov. 16 at Chaplain street, Dracut Centre.

OFFICER LISTON HURT

Liquor Squad Member Sustains Leg Injury During Prince Street Raid

The service of Officer William F. Liston, one of the most efficient members of the local liquor squad, will be indefinitely lost as the result of a broken bone in his right leg, near the ankle, sustained while pursuing an alleged liquor law violator in Prince street, last night. The injured member was treated by Dr. M. A. Tighe, who said he could not determine the exact nature of the affliction until an X-ray was taken. He thought, however, that a bone was broken or a ligament torn.

The mishap occurred as Officer Liston darted out the rear door of the Prince street tenement. He was a party to a raid conducted on the premises by Sergt. Winn, and Officers Cooney and Keegan, after they had witnessed the transaction of a sale of liquor.

Officer Cooney was the front door of the house and apprehended one of the two men concerned in the sale. The other man managed to escape through a rear door and ran with all haste up Prince street, with Officer Liston giving chase.

A short distance from the house, the Officer tripped and fell, sustaining the injury which now confines him to his home.

In view of the fact that insufficient evidence of the alleged sale was available, no arrests were made.

ROBBED OF $11,260

Holyoke Man Held up by
Two Men and Relieved of Big Roll

HOLYOKE, Nov. 2.—Police of a wide area were assisting the local authorities today in an effort to apprehend two men who late last night held up Alexander Horowitz of this city and at the point of pistols, relieved him of $11,260 and made their escape in an automobile. Horowitz told the police that as he was on his way home with the proceeds of a certified check, he had converted into cash at a Springfield bank earlier in the day his automobile was passed by another machine, the driver of which signalled him to stop. As he did so, two men leaped from the other car and covered him with revolvers, searching his clothing, and finding the cash. The holdup occurred in an outlying part of the city.

DANCE HALL CASE IN SUPERIOR COURT

Further testimony for the defence in the case of Richard, et al. vs. Morin, growing out of the collapse of a dance hall on the Pawtucket boulevard, was offered before Judge Qua and jury in superior civil court this morning.

Witnesses were introduced whose testimony was in reference to the plans of the building. It is the contention of the defence that the plans for the building, although approved by the building inspector, did not conform to the building ordinance. There was also technical testimony regarding the construction of the building.

It is expected that evidence in the case, which has been on trial since last Monday, will be concluded this afternoon, but arguments will be deferred until Monday.

The action is one of contract, and damages $20,000. The plaintiffs claim that the building was not built of good material and further that the construction was faulty. The plaintiffs paid $14,000 for the construction of the buildings.

Attorney E. J. Tierney is counsel for the plaintiffs and Attorney Albert S. Howard for the defendant.

MRS STOKES NEVER HAD HAPPY DAY WITH STOKES

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Helen Stokes, wife of W. E. Stokes, resumed the witness stand today for cross-examination in the trial of her husband's suit for divorce. In answer to the first question asked her, she said she could not recall having spent one happy day with Stokes since her marriage.

Mrs. Stokes, questioned by Max D. Steuer, counsel for Stokes, continuously declared that she had never been at 13 East Thirty-fifth street, home of Edgar T. Wallace, named as co-defendant.

"On the day you married, Mrs. Stokes, you regretted it," asked Mr. Steuer.

"I did," answered Mrs. Stokes.

"Did you ever have a happy day with him?"

"I cannot recollect that I did."

to Pawtucket streets, it will have reached its limits.

The city today is paying nearly $150,000 a year for street lighting which amount will be considerably increased next year with the addition of the system in Burton st., Gorham and Central sts.

As the need for new lighting comes in streets not included in the so-called downtown area, it is believed the public service board will incline toward the use of other types of lamps which would give adequate service at a much reduced cost.

The Type B lamps being installed on Central bridge and along First street and the new boulevard in every way satisfactory, yet cost considerably less than the White Way illumination.

It is believed, therefore, that with the two exceptions above noted, the board will not look with any favor upon petitions for White Way extensions in the future, due almost entirely to its excessive cost.

The city park department is at work next spring and summer.

5000 WOMEN MISSING IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—Five thousand women and girls of all ages were reported missing in Los Angeles during the past year, according to Mrs. Georgia Robinson of the police juvenile bureau. Dissatisfaction with conditions at home was responsible for most of the disappearances, she said.

BOY WAS BITTEN BY DOG TO BROADCAST WILSON'S SPEECH

Motorcycle Officer Judge
Shoots Dog That Attacked
Shea Street Boy

A Boston bulldog belonging to Henry Guerlin of 1002 Broadway street was shot and killed by Motorcycle Officer Bernard J. Judge this morning after the dog had bitten a finger on the right hand of William Richard, a boy living at 3 Shea street.

Shortly after 3 o'clock a telephone call was received at the police station, saying that a dog frothing at the mouth and assumed to be "mad," had bitten a little boy in Shea street, and was causing considerable anxiety among residents of the vicinity.

Members of the liquor squad were immediately dispatched to the scene of the trouble. Officer Alfred Killoy aspired the animal reposing on the door step of the Shea home. Approaching him cautiously, he removed his coat and attempted to wrap it around the canine. The dog escaped from his temporary captivity just as Motorcycle Officer Judge appeared. A merry chase up Shea st. ensued and when the officer got within firing distance, he discharged a couple of shots from his revolver. The bullets took effect, the animal dying almost immediately.

Young Richard was taken to the Corporation hospital, where the injured finger was treated.

The subject matter of his address has not been disclosed but some of those concerned with plans for the occasion believe the former president may discuss current public questions, including the international situation. Should their expectations be borne out, it would be Mr. Wilson's first extended effort to lay his views before the country since he left the White house.

The address will be delivered from the front steps of the Wilson home. A microphone placed nearby will carry the former president's voice over telephone wires to three of the most powerful broadcasting stations in the east, WCAP in Washington, WPAF in New York and WJAR in Providence. Radio experts say that with favorable atmospheric conditions wireless receiving sets in every part of the country will be able to pick up Mr. Wilson's words distinctly.

It is considered possible that through the radio arrangement, local armistice day gatherings in many places will listen to the address.
